FOUNDER

LAMAR HUNT

As the organizer of the American Football League 34 years ago, Lamar Hunt's activities helped positively change the face of America's favorite game. Hunt is among those most responsible for the development, direction and design of the modern-day National Football League.

As the founder of the Chiefs franchise, Hunt helped provide Kansas City with a team that became the winningest in the 10-year history of the AFL and earned spots in two Super Bowls, as well as the 1969 World Championship. As the founder of the AFL, and a principal negotiator in the merger with the NFL, Hunt helped pave the way for much of the modern growth of pro football. Possibly the greatest tribute to his contributions to pro football is the AFC Championship Trophy that carries his name.

Another indication of Hunt's contributions to the game is that he was the first AFL figure to be honored by enshrinement in the Pro Football Hall of Fame at Canton, Ohio. That high honor was bestowed on him in the summer of 1972.

In 1982, Hunt was singled out by the NFL Alumni Association, receiving the prestigious Leather Helmet Award, and has subsequently been honored in the Sports Hall of Fames of both Missouri and Texas. In February of this year, he received the Francis J. "Reds" Bagnell Award from the Maxwell Club for continuing positive contributions to the game.

The early days of the AFL were problem-filled but Hunt saw his franchise achieve on-field success. In 1962, the Texans won the AFL Championship with an overtime victory over Houston, the first of three titles won by the Texans/Chiefs in the 10-year history of the league. They repeated as champions in both 1966 and 1969. By winning the '66 title, the Chiefs earned the right to play in the first Super Bowl against the NFL champion Green Bay Packers. Three years later, the Chiefs claimed Kansas City's first world major league sports championship by defeating the Minnesota Vikings in Super Bowl IV.

In 1960, Hunt helped make pro football history by founding and organizing the AFL, which included his Dallas Texans franchise. After three years, the team moved to Kansas City, where the organization celebrated its 30th year in Mid-America in 1992.

Lamar Hunt has been a leader in the game for over 30 years, and few individuals have helped shape the game more than this quiet Texan. He maintains a Dallas residence but has actively contributed to the Kansas City economy through the development of the multi-million-dollar recreational theme park "Worlds of Fun," and in addition, 10 years ago the family-controlled Hunt Midwest Corporation also opened the "Oceans of Fun" water park. The Hunt family is the principal owner of the Kansas City-based company.

Hunt was a chief negotiator in the merger of the AFL and NFL in the late sixties and was one of the principal designers of the playoff format. Hunt is credited with accidentally putting the name "Super Bowl" on the NFL's championship game – the name coming from his children's toy "Super Ball."

A year-round sports fan, Hunt is involved in several additional entertainment ventures. He is one of the founding investors in the three-time World Champion Chicago Bulls of the NBA. He and his family were also involved in the development of the North American Soccer League and World Champion Tennis. Both of those entities are now defunct; however, in a unique twist, Hunt's involvement in these ventures resulted years later in his induction into the respective Halls of Fame of both United States Soccer (Oneonta, New York) and International Tennis (Newport, Rhode Island).

As President of the American Football Conference, Hunt is a working member of several prominent NFL committees, and has actively worked on development of the international aspects of the sport.

Hunt was born August 2, 1932, in El Dorado, Arkansas, and graduated from SMU with a B.S. in geology in 1956. While at SMU, he was a four-year reserve end on the varsity football team. He and his wife, Norma, have four children, Lamar, Jr., Sharron, Clark and Daniel, and the six together are the most enthusiastic supporters of Chiefs "Red and Gold."

CHAIRMAN OF THE BOARD

JACK W. STEADMAN

In 1993, the Kansas City Chiefs began their 34th season as a pro football franchise under the leadership of Jack Steadman, Chairman of the Board and Chief Executive Officer.

A recognized leader among pro football administrators, Steadman has structured the Chiefs organization to meet the challenge brought about by growth of the business of pro football over the years.

As the Chiefs begin their 31st season in Kansas City, and their 22nd season in magnificent Arrowhead Stadium, Steadman can look with pride at the list of football and administrative accomplishments the organization has achieved since moving from Dallas for the beginning of the 1963 season in the old American Football League.

It was Steadman who conceived the idea of Kansas City building the dual Harry S. Truman Sports Complex which houses the Chiefs in the 78,000-seat Arrowhead, and Royals baseball in the 42,000-seat Royals Stadium. This complex is recognized as the finest of its kind in the world.

Steadman was promoted from General Manager to Executive Vice President and General Manager in 1966; in August of 1976 he was named President of the Chiefs in charge of all operating operations; and in 1989 was named Chairman of the Board.

After establishing himself as an innovative, successful businessman with the Kansas City Chiefs Football Club, Jack Steadman joined Lamar Hunt in the development of Worlds of Fun. The 165-acre family entertainment complex opened in 1973 and drew over 800,000 guests during its first season of operation. After 20 years, Worlds of Fun has grown from 60 rides, shows and attractions to over 115. Over 24 million guests have enjoyed Worlds of Fun since 1973.

In 1982, HME Entertainment, Inc., completed the 60-acre family water recreation park, Oceans of Fun. Located adjacent to Worlds of Fun, Oceans of Fun has hosted over three million guests since its opening.

In addition to serving as Chairman of the Chiefs and Hunt Midwest Enterprises, Inc., which owns Worlds of Fun and Oceans of Fun theme parks, Hunt Midwest Mining, a limestone rock mining company, and Hunt Midwest Real Estate Development Co., an underground and surface real estate development firm in the Kansas City International Foreign-Trade Zone, he also serves on the Board of Directors of Commerce Bank and is the Chairman of the NFL Employees Benefit Plan Committee.

Actively involved within the community since arriving in Kansas City, Steadman is a tireless worker and detailed organizer in many civic and service projects. He is a past Chairman, President and Campaign Chairman of the Heart of America United Way, and past President of the Chamber of Commerce of Greater Kansas City. He is a past Chairman and Board Member of the Private Industry Council as well as the Full Employment Council. He serves as a director of the American Royal Association, Starlight Theatre Association, and Private Industry Council. Steadman also serves as an Advisory Trustee for Midwest Research Institute and is a member of the Civic Council. In 1988 he was honored by the Chamber of Commerce of Greater Kansas City as the "Kansas Citian of the Year."

Steadman, who was born September 14, 1928, grew up in Warrenville, Ill., and in Dallas. He attended Baylor University and received his B.A. in business administration from Southern Methodist University. Jack and his wife, Martha, who also is involved in a number of civic organizations in Kansas City, live in Mission Hills, Kansas.

PRESIDENT/GM

CARL PETERSON
President/General Manager and Chief Operating Officer

The Chiefs revitalization the past four years under Carl Peterson's guidance has not been lost on club founder Lamar Hunt.

"Under Carl's leadership, the Chiefs have achieved a high level of respect as one of the leaders in the NFL," said Hunt. "This respect has been measured in several principal areas, including the development and guidance of a quality organization in every phase – front office, scouting, coaching, and team."

Hunt cited improvements in the following key areas under Peterson's leadership:

- Season ticket sales have risen from 26,000 in 1988 to 69,000 in 1993 – the fourth highest in pro sports.
- In-stadium attendance where the Chiefs have attained a position in the top two in the NFL in 1991 and the top three in 1992.
- Won-loss percentage where the Chiefs have recorded a winning percentage of 59.6% for the combination of regular season and postseason games during the four-year Peterson era – the fifth-best record in the NFL.

The past three seasons have been especially productive ones for the Chiefs. For the first time in the franchise's 33-year history, the Chiefs made three straight playoff appearances. The team also put together three consecutive 10-win seasons for the first time ever. Only three other teams have a better record than the Chiefs 37-17 mark from 1990-92: San Francisco 49ers (38-10), Buffalo Bills (37-11) and Washington Redskins (33-15). The Chiefs, Redskins, Bills, Saints and Oilers are the only five clubs to reach the playoffs in each of the past three years.

Playoff participation and winning seasons are nothing new to Peterson, who played an integral role in the success of the USFL's Philadelphia/Baltimore Stars, the Philadelphia Eagles and UCLA. Since he was appointed Player Personnel Director of the Eagles in 1977, the pro teams he has been associated with have a combined record of 127-67-2 (.653). In his last 12 seasons in pro football, his teams have had winning records 11 times and made the playoffs on 10 occasions.

Despite his unquestioned success with the Chiefs, he refuses to sit back and admire his accomplishments.

"I'm leery of anything that gives the impression that this job is finished, that it's time to stop and pat somebody on the back," he stated. "There is no magic wand that suddenly puts us in the Super Bowl. There's a tremendous amount of hard work left."

One area that Peterson has always excelled in is unearthing talent. In his brief tenure with the Chiefs, he, and the club's outstanding scouting department used the college draft, trades and the free agent market to build the club's talent pool.

Each of the Chiefs last four No. 1 picks have been major contributors: Derrick Thomas (1989 – four Pro Bowls); Percy Snow (1990 – starter as a rookie); Harvey Williams (1991 – team's all-purpose yardage leader as a rookie) and Dale Carter (1992 – NFL Defensive Rookie of the Year). Drafts over the past four years have also brought the Chiefs starters and heavy contributors like Tim Grunhard, Dave Szott, Charles Mincy, Todd McNair, Derrick Graham, Darren Mickell, Tom Sims, Tim Barnett, Fred Jones, Joe Valerio and Mike Evans.

A 1993 trade with the San Francisco 49ers brought the Chiefs quarterback Joe Montana, the NFL's all-time leading passer and a three-time Super Bowl MVP, and safety David Whitmore, the 49ers starting strong safety in 1992.

The Chiefs scouting braintrust has also tapped the free agency market to further stockpile talent such as Marcus Allen, Dan Saleaumua, Barry Word, Willie Davis, Lonnie Marts, J.J. Birden, Tracy Simien, Joe Phillips, Martin Bayless, Bennie Thompson, Doug Terry, Bryan Barker, Keith Cash and Tony Hargain.

Peterson has led the Chiefs to many off-the-field successes as well. Season ticket sales have soared to a level last seen in the early 1970s. In 1992, the club cut off season ticket sales at 65,000, and the current season-ticket ceiling is 69,000. The team's last 16 games at Arrowhead Stadium have been sold out, and in 1991-92, the club's average attendance of 73,751 fans was the third-highest in the entire NFL.

Under Peterson, the Chiefs have also added new grass practice fields, complete with a prescription drainage system, and a much-needed indoor practice complex that includes 90 yards of omniturf plus new weight-training facilities, training rehabilitation facilities and locker rooms. The entire locker room, individual position meeting rooms, plus a first-class team auditorium was completed in 1992.

Peterson's reputation as one of football's top executives began in 1977, when he became the Director of Player Personnel for the Philadelphia Eagles. As the man chiefly responsible for the acquisition of talent, he helped take a team which had not produced a winning record in 12 years and transformed it into a playoff participant his final four seasons. The highlight of those four years came in 1980, when the Eagles won the NFC Championship and advanced to Super Bowl XV in January of 1981.

After his rapid success with the Eagles, Peterson was the man selected to build the Philadelphia Stars when the United States Football League (USFL) was launched in July of 1982. As the franchise's President and General Manager, he proceeded to put together the most successful team in the league's three-year existence, capturing the USFL title the final two seasons. The Stars 41-12-1 record during the regular season and 7-1 mark in postseason play were easily the finest of any USFL team. His efforts were rewarded in 1983 and 1984, when he was named The Sporting News "USFL Executive of the Year."

Peterson displayed his knack for discovering and developing young players long before he took over the Chiefs fortunes. With the Eagles, he found Pro Bowl running back Wilbert Montgomery in the sixth round, claimed linebacker Jerry Robinson, the 1979 NFL Rookie of the Year, with the 21st pick of the first round, and stole five-time Pro Bowl receiver Mike Quick with the 20th pick in round one. Several of his acquisitions with the Stars went on to become starters in the NFL. They include linebacker Sam Mills (Saints), center Bart Oates (Giants), tackle Irv Eatman (Chiefs, Jets and Rams), linebacker Mike Johnson (Browns), linebacker George Jamison (Lions), punter Sean Landeta (Giants) and running back Kelvin Bryant (Redskins).

After his tenure in the USFL, Peterson entered private business, serving as President and Chief Executive Officer of Phillysport magazine in Philadelphia.

A 1966 graduate of UCLA, Peterson began his coaching career as an assistant at two California high schools, Wilson High in 1966 and Loyola High in 1967-68. He entered the college coaching ranks as an assistant at Cal-State at Somona in 1969, then was named head coach in 1970. He spent two years there before returning to his alma mater in 1972. He served as receivers coach at UCLA under Pepper Rodgers for two years, then remained on the staff as receivers coach and administrative assistant when Dick Vermeil became the Bruins head coach in 1974. Peterson stayed with Vermeil for two years at UCLA before the two made their move to the NFL, where he coached the Eagles receivers and tight ends.

Peterson serves on the National Boards for the Maxwell Football Club and Pop Warner Little Scholarship Organization. He was recently elected Chairman of the Board of Trustees for Pop Warner. He is also a member of the Kansas City chapter of the Young President's Organization, as well as a member of the international World President's Organization.

The 49-year-old Peterson grew up in Long Beach, California, and attended both the U.S. Military Academy at West Point and UCLA. He earned his Bachelor of Science degree in Kinesiology from UCLA in 1966, a Master's Degree in Kinesiology in 1967 and later received a doctorate in Higher Education from UCLA in 1970.

Carl is single, resides in Kansas City, Missouri, and has one daughter, Dawn, who graduated from UCLA last year.

TIM CONNOLLY
Executive Vice President

Under the leadership of Tim Connolly the past four years, the Chiefs have excelled as well off the field as they have on it. Connolly, who assumed his role as Executive Vice President in February of '89, has initiated several positive changes in the team's front office that have produced extremely favorable results. His intuition and organizational plans have made the Chiefs a "model" pro sports franchise.

Connolly put together a sales and marketing structure that has produced club records for season, group and suite sales. The Chiefs ranked first or second in the NFL in season-ticket increase for three straight seasons and first or second in percentage increase in season ticket sales for four years before setting a ceiling on season ticket sales. Currently, the Chiefs have in excess of 69,000 season ticket holders, giving the club its largest base since '74.

The 44-year-old Connolly has been instrumental in expanding both the Chiefs radio network and preseason television package, which now serves an ever-increasing fan base in the Midwest. In addition, he was responsible for the recently completed $8.5 million capital expansion program, which included the new Chiefs practice facility, scoreboard systems and sound system.

On the administrative front, the Chiefs are now considered on the "leading edge." The recent installation of state-of-the-art computer systems, phone systems, and electronic ticketing systems have moved the Chiefs to the forefront of the NFL in technology and administrative productivity.

Connolly came to Kansas City after serving as President and Chief Executive Officer of two Bell Atlantic subsidiaries: Bell Atlantic Mobile Systems, Bell Atlantic's cellular phone company; and SORBUS Corporation, the largest independent computer maintenance organization in the world.

He began his business career in 1971 at the IBM Corporation, where he served in various sales, staff and management positions. He graduated from George Washington University with a degree in finance.

Tim and his wife Kathy reside in Overland Park, Kansas, and have three children, Jennifer, Brianne, and John.

DENNIS THUM
Assistant General Manager

Dennis Thum, who has played a major role in the Kansas City Chiefs front office the past 20 years, has been the club's Assistant General Manager since 1989. Thum assists Carl Peterson, the Chiefs President/General Manager and Chief Operating Officer, in overseeing the football side of the Chiefs operation.

The 41-year-old Thum is heavily involved in the preparation of the entire football budget, takes part in the negotiations of all player contracts and helps service the coaching staff, trainers, equipment personnel and video staff. He is also in charge of training camp operations and coordinates the team's travel.

Thum held the position of Assistant to the General Manager from '84 to '88, and was promoted to his current position shortly after Peterson's arrival in Kansas City five years ago. He served as the club's Director of Accounting in '83 and Chief Accountant in '82. A native of St. Louis, Missouri, Thum joined the Chiefs as a staff accountant in '74, the same year he graduated from Rockhurst College in Kansas City.

Born November 14, 1951, Dennis and his wife, Carmen, live in Kansas City, Missouri, with their two daughters, Megan (12) and Lindsay (9).

HEAD COACH

MARTY SCHOTTENHEIMER

"Marty Schottenheimer and I began our NFL coaching careers together as competitors in the NFC," said Chiefs President and General Manager Carl Peterson, "and he is, without a doubt, the fiercest competitor I have ever met. His record clearly speaks for itself. When I hired Marty, I knew it would be the best decision I would make in restructuring the Chiefs . . . again, his record speaks for itself."

Schottenheimer's record, in each of his four seasons with the Chiefs, has been a winning one, and winning was something foreign to the Chiefs organization for the better part of the 15 years prior to his arrival in Kansas City in 1989. He has guided the Chiefs to four of their six winning seasons since 1974. His regular season record with the Chiefs stands at 39-24-1, good for a .617 winning percentage, the highest in franchise history.

Schottenheimer has restored a winning attitude throughout the proud Chiefs organization. Upon taking over the post, he said that winning was a habit. In his four seasons, the Chiefs have become addicted to his winning ways.

Success has followed Schottenheimer wherever he has been. In eight full seasons as an NFL head coach, he has never experienced a losing season. He has taken his team to the playoffs seven of his eight full seasons as a head coach, and is the only coach that has taken his club to the playoffs seven times since 1985.

After four-and-a-half years as the Cleveland Browns head coach, Schottenheimer took over the Chiefs reigns on January 24, 1989. He has a 83-51-1 career regular season record, and that translates into a .619 winning percentage, the fourth-highest among active coaches with at least four full seasons.

Under Schottenheimer from 1990-92, the Chiefs accomplished a pair of firsts: three straight seasons in the playoffs and three consecutive years with 10 or more victories. Only three other teams have a better record than the Chiefs (31-17) the past three seasons: San Francisco (38-10), Buffalo (37-11) and Washington (33-15). Moreover, the Chiefs, Redskins, Bills, Saints and Oilers are the only five clubs to reach the playoffs in each of the past three seasons. The Chiefs have dominated AFC West opposition of late, winning 17 of their last 21 games against division foes.

Despite injuries to several key players, the Chiefs battled to a 10-6 record and another playoff berth in 1992. The team showed its true heart in a season-ending 42-20 victory over the Broncos that put the Chiefs into postseason play. For the second straight year, the Chiefs were 6-2 in the division.

In 1991, the Chiefs won their first playoff game since Super Bowl IV (Jan. 11, 1970) by upending the Los Angeles Raiders, 10-6, in an AFC Wild Card contest. That victory took place at Arrowhead Stadium, marking the first ever playoff game in the structure's 20-year history. The season ended with a tough 37-14 loss to the Buffalo Bills in the AFC Divisional Playoff Game. The Chiefs posted an impressive 6-2 record in the AFC West, sweeping the Raiders, San Diego Chargers and Seattle Seahawks. The 10-6 regular season mark was good for the team's third-straight second-place finish in the division.

In 1990, Schottenheimer directed the Chiefs to an 11-5 record, the club's finest in 21 years. He also lead the team to postseason play for just the second time since 1971 and the first time since 1986. In the first-round playoff game, the Chiefs lost a thrilling 17-16 decision to the Miami Dolphins.

The reversal of the Chies fortunes began in 1989, Schottenheimer's first season with the club. That season the club posted an 8-7-1 record and missed a playoff berth by ½-game.

Schottenheimer firmly established himself as one of the league's best head coaches before venturing to Kansas City. In his four full seasons as the Browns head coach, he produced four playoff berths, three AFC Central titles, two AFC Championship Game appearances and consensus AFC Coach of the Year honors in 1986.

Schottenheimer embarked upon his first head coaching job at midseason in 1984 when the Browns promoted him from defensive coordinator to head coach as Sam Rutigliano's replacement. He took over a 1-7 team, yet managed to direct the Browns to a 4-4 finish in the season's second half. Three of the four losses were by field goals late in the game.

In 1985, his first full season as a head coach, Schottenheimer guided the Browns to the AFC Central title. The following year, he earned consensus AFC Coach of the Year honors after directing Cleveland to a 12-4 season record, a second straight division title and a spot in the AFC Championship Game, which the Browns dropped to the Denver Broncos, 23-20, in overtime. Cleveland gained a third straight AFC Central title in 1987, and for the second consecutive year advanced to the AFC title game, falling to Denver again, 38-33. Despite losing three quarterbacks and several other starters to injury in 1988, he led the Browns to a 10-6 record and playoff entry for the fourth year in a row.

Schottenheimer joined the Browns as defensive coordinator in 1980, and molded a powerful defense over the next five years. In 1984 his defense ranked first in the AFC and second to the Chicago Bears in the NFL.

Schottenheimer started his coaching career with the World Football League's Portland Storm in 1974. He opened that season as a player, but a shoulder injury ended his playing career, although he did continue tutoring the team's linebackers. A year later, he joined Bill Arnsparger – the architect of the Miami Dolphins "No-Name Defense" – with the New York Giants as linebackers coach, then he was promoted to defensive coordinator at the age of 34 under John McVay in 1977. He then became the Detroit Lions linebackers coach in 1978, staying two years before making the move to Cleveland.

Schottenheimer was an All-America linebacker at the University of Pittsburgh, where he was named to the school's all-time team. He played in the 1965 Chicago College All-Star Game (Browns beat All-Stars, 24-16). In that game, he played alongside Dick Butkus, Fred Biletnikoff, Roger Staubach, Bob Hayes and Bill Curry.

In 1965 Schottenheimer was selected in the fourth round of the NFL draft by the Baltimore Colts and in the seventh round of the AFL draft by the Buffalo Bills. He played with the Bills from 1965-68 and the Boston Patriots in 1969-70 before being traded to the Pittsburgh Steelers in 1971. After a training camp stint under Chuck Noll, he was traded to the Colts, but retired three weeks later when Baltimore released him. Following his retirement, he worked in real estate in Denver until resurfacing in the WFL.

Schottenheimer, who now serves on the NFL's prestigious Competition Committee, was an honor student and football/basketball standout at Ft. Cherry High School in McDonald, Pa. He was an All-Western Pennsylvania linebacker and the center on the state championship basketball team. He then began his college career at Pitt, where he earned an English degree.

Schottenheimer is a licensed pilot and flew with the Navy's Blue Angels in February of 1992.

Born September 23, 1943 in Canonsburg, Pa., Marty and his wife, Pat, have two children, a 23-year-old daughter, Kristen, who works in advertising, and a 19-year-old son, Brian, who begins his second year as a quarterback at the University of Kansas this fall. The Schottenheimers reside in Overland Park, Kansas.

COACHING STAFF

DAVE ADOLPH, Defensive Coordinator/Linebackers

A 30-year coaching veteran, Dave Adolph directed a '92 Kansas City defense that ranked third in the AFC and fifth in the NFL. Adolph has been a defensive coordinator in the NFL the past seven seasons. Before arriving in Kansas City in '92, he spent three seasons as the defensive coordinator of the Los Angeles Raiders. He served as Marty Schottenheimer's defensive coordinator with the Cleveland Browns in '84 and '86-88. In '85 he was a defensive assistant with the San Diego Chargers.

In '92 the Chiefs switched from 3-4 to 4-3 front midway through the season and still managed to allow just 270.3 yards per game, the fifth-fewest in the entire league, while just five opponents more than 300 total yards per game. The big-play group led the league with eight return touchdowns, while also amassing 50 sacks (fifth in the NFL), 39 total takeaways (third) and 24 interceptions (third). Kansas City allowed just 158.6 passing yards per game, second in the league to New Orleans' yield of 154.4.

Top-ranked defenses and big-play capability are nothing new to Adolph. In his last six years as a defensive boss, Adolph's teams have permitted just 17.6 points per game and ranked among the NFL's Top 10 in total defense and passing defense five of the past six seasons. From '87-92, the defenses that Adolph has coached have given up just 291 total yards per outing and average two takeaways each game. His last six teams have also scored 24 defensive touchdowns, an average of four a year.

The 56-year-old Adolph became the Browns defensive coordinator midway through the '84 season when Schottenheimer was promoted to head coach. Originally picked as the Browns defensive line coach in '79, he took over the club's linebackers in '81.

Before entering the pro coaching ranks, Adolph spent 16 years as a college assistant at several high-profile programs. He became an assistant to Rick Forzano at the University of Connecticut in '65. He then joined John Ray as defensive coordinator at Kentucky in '69. Following a four-year stint with the Wildcats, he became linebacker coach at Illinois, where he also stayed for four years. In '77-78 he worked with the legendary Woody Hayes at Ohio State.

A native of Akron, Ohio, Adolph attended Mogodore High School, then played guard and linebacker for the Akron Zips and was chosen the Ohio Valley Conference's top lineman in '58. After serving three years of Air Force duty ('59-61) as a commissioned officer, he began his coaching career at Cleveland's Shaw High School in '62. He followed that up by spending two years at his alma mater as offensive line coach.

Born June 6, 1937 in Akron, Dave and his wife, Bettey, live in Kansas City with their children Shane (19) and Heather (17). Dave has three sons: Mike (30), Mark (28) and Tom (23).

RUSS BALL, Assistant Strength and Conditioning

Beginning his fifth season as a strength and conditioning specialist in the NFL, Russ Ball assists Dave Redding in the physical development and maturity of the club's athletes.

Ball was the head strength coach at the University of Missouri from '82 to '88. In '82 he replaced Redding, who left the Tigers to join the Cleveland Browns. Ball was Missouri's assistant weight coach in '81 and '82.

The 33-year-old Columbia, Missouri, native earned four letters as a center at Central Missouri State University. He was an all-conference selection as a senior in '80. Ball was an all-state performer at Columbia Hickman High School in Columbia, Missouri. In '90, he earned a Master's Degree in Human Performace from the University of Missouri.

Born August 28, 1959, Russ is single and lives in Kansas City, Missouri.

Ball's Coaching Career: University of Missouri 1981-88; joined Chiefs in 1989.

JOHN BUNTING, Defensive Assistant

John Bunting brings a wealth of experience to the Chiefs as both a player and a coach. He spent 13 seasons as a pro linebacker and another seven as a coach, including five seasons as a collegiate head coach. Bunting will work with the club's defensive line and linebackers, a task he performed during Kansas City's '92 training camp.

The 42-year-old Bunting spent the last five years ('88-92) as head coach at Rowan College, an NCAA Division III school in Glassboro, New Jersey. He built the Rowan program into one of the best in NCAA Division III. He amassed an impressive 38-14-2 record at Rowan, leading his team into the Division III playoffs in both '91 and '92. Last season, he directed the team to a perfect 10-0 regular season mark en route to Metropolitan New York Football Writers Association's Division III Coach of the Year honors. Prior to taking over the head coaching post, he spent one season as the school's defensive line coach and one season as defensive ends coach at Brown University.

Bunting spent 11 seasons as a linebacker with the Philadelphia Eagles and another two with the USFL's Philadelphia Stars. Despite joining the Eagles as a 10th-round draft choice in '72, he went on to play in 133 games with the club, primarily as a starting outside linebacker. He then played with the Stars in '83 and '84, before serving as the club's linebackers coach in '85. He played in the Eagles Super Bowl XV contest against the Oakland Raiders and was a member of the Stars USFL Championship team in '84.

During his senior year at North Carolina, Bunting, a team co-captain, received All-Atlantic Coast Conference and honorable mention All-America honors. A three-year starter for the Tar Heels, he went on to earn a B.S. degree in education from the university.

Born July 15, 1950 in Portland, Maine, John and his wife, Dawn, who was the woman's basketball coach at Rowan, reside in Kansas City. He has two children, Kim (24) and Brooks (19).

Bunting's Coaching Career: USFL Baltimore Stars 1985; Brown University 1986; Rowan College 1987-92 (head coach 1988-92); joined Chiefs in 1993.

HERMAN EDWARDS, Defensive Backs

In just his first season as Kansas City's defensive backs coach in '92, Herman Edwards helped make the Chiefs pass defense one of the best in the entire NFL. Edwards, a 10-year NFL playing veteran, first came to Kansas City in '89 as the recipient of the club's Black Coaching Fellowship and later moved into the team's player personnel department as a talent scout. From '89-91, he served as an assistant secondary coach with the team during training camp. In '92, he was named the Chiefs defensive backs coach.

Last season, his first as a full-time professional assistant coach, Edwards helped the Chiefs pass defense rank first in the AFC and second in the NFL. The Chiefs 24 interceptions last season tied for the third-most in the league. Edwards' unit also showed a knack for the big play as the team's defensive backs scored five defensive touchdowns. He was integral in the accelerated development of two young defensive backs, second-year free safety Charles Mincy and cornerback Dale Carter. Mincy started all 16 games at free safety, recording four interceptions and 96 tackles, both totals were good for second on the club. Carter, the team's first-round pick in '92, earned Defensive Rookie of the Year honors after leading the team with seven interceptions.

From '87 through '89, the 39-year-old Edwards was the defensive secondary coach at San Jose State. During each of his three seasons there, San Jose State's opponents completed less than 50 percent of their pass attempts.

Edwards' NFL career began with the Philadelphia Eagles in '77 when he was signed as a rookie free agent by Chiefs President/General Manager Carl Peterson, who was the Eagles Player Personnel Director at the time. Peterson and Dick Vermeil, the former Eagles and UCLA head coach, knew about Edwards because they originally tried to recruit him to attend UCLA out of high school. Edwards chose Cal-Berkeley, but helped Vermeil and the Eagles to a Super Bowl appearance following the '80 season.

As a starting cornerback for the Eagles from '77 through '85, he played in 135 straight games and ranks second on the club's all-time interception list with 33. He also made five interceptions in postseason play. He was a second team All-NFC pick in '80 and '82. He played a major role in one of the most incredible plays in NFL history in '78 when he scooped up a fumble by quarterback Joe Pisarcik and ran 26 yards for a touchdown with just 31 seconds remaining in a 19-17 win over the New York Giants that has become known as the "Miracle of the Meadowlands."

He lettered at San Diego State in '76 after transferring from Cal-Berkeley, where he was a two-time first team All-Pac 10 pick. He owns a share of a Cal record by intercepting four passes in a single game.

Born April 27, 1954 in Monmouth, New Jersey, Herman grew up in Seaside, California. He is single and resides in Kansas City.

Edwards' Coaching Career: San Jose State 1987-89; joined Chiefs in 1992.

ALEX GIBBS, Offensive Line

Alex Gibbs, a 24-year coaching veteran, begins his first season in charge of the Chiefs offensive line. Gibbs is extremely familiar with the AFC West, having spent eight of his nine seasons as an NFL assistant coach in the division.

The 52-year-old Gibbs first became an NFL assistant in '84 with the Denver Broncos, serving as that club's offensive line coach for four seasons under Dan Reeves. He was part of a staff that helped Denver make appearances in two straight Super Bowls (XXI and XXII). In '88-89, he was the Los Angeles Raiders assistant head coach under Mike Shanahan. He served a two-year stint as the San Diego Chargers offensive line coach in '90-91. In San Diego, he helped forge a unit that ranked second in the league in rushing offense in '91 with an average output of 140.5 yards per contest. The Chargers were the NFL's third-most potent rushing offense in '90 with an average of 141.1 yards per game. He spent last season as the Indianapolis Colts offensive line coach.

Gibbs coached on the collegiate level for 13 seasons before entering the pro ranks. He worked at Duke ('69-70) and Kentucky ('71-72) before moving to West Virginia ('73-74), where Bobby Bowden was the head coach. He then landed the offensive coordinator/line position at Ohio State. He spent '75-78 with the Buckeyes under the legendary Woody Hayes before moving to Auburn as offensive coordinator. He served three seasons at Auburn ('79-81), then coached the offensive line at Georgia from '82-83. He also logged three seasons at Mount Airy (N.C.) High School, where he won a pair of state championships.

A native of Burke County, North Carolina, Gibbs was running back and defensive back at Davidson College, where he was a pre-law major. He earned a master's degree from North Carolina in European history and a doctorate in education from Auburn.

Alex resides in Kansas City with his wife, Anamaria, and has five children, Sandy (26), Steve (25), David (24), Chuck (22) and Mark (20).

Gibbs Coaching Career: Duke University 1969-70; University of Kentucky 1971-72; West Virginia University 1973-74; Ohio State University 1975-78; Auburn University 1979-81; University of Georgia 1982-83; Denver Broncos 1984-87; Los Angeles Raiders 1988-89; San Diego Chargers 1990-91; Indianapolis Colts 1992; joined Chiefs in 1993.

PAUL HACKETT, Offensive Coordinator/Quarterback

An exceptional collection of professional and collegiate players owe a substantial protion of their success to Paul Hackett, who joined the Chiefs this year. Hackett, who will man the Chiefs offense and tutor the club's quarterbacks in '93, has overseen the development of offensive luminaries like Joe Montana, Steve Bartkowski, Marcus Allen, Charles White, Brian Sipe, Jerry Rice, Dwight Clark and Vince Evans, and worked under head coaches Bill Walsh, Tom Landry, John Robinson and Sam Rutigliano.

The 46-year-old Hackett brings 23 years of coaching experience, as either offensive assistant or head coach, to Kansas City. Says head coach Marty Schottenheimer who coached with Hackett in Cleveland, "Paul has an outstanding perspective of offensive football. He is an extremely talented quarterback coach who brings great enthusiasm and energy to his job. He is very detail-oriented and is one of the finest teachers I've been around."

While coaching the San Francisco 49ers quarterbacks and receivers under Bill Walsh from '83-85, he played a major role in the developing NFL powerhouse, whose innovative offense would serve as a standard of excellence throughout the '80s and into the '90s. With the 49ers, he helped train one of the greatest players in pro football history – Joe Montana. During the three years Hackett worked with Montana, the future Hall of Famer put up some incredible numbers: 914 completions, 1,441 attempts, 63.4 completion percentage, an average of 3,731 passing yards per season, 81 touchdowns and just 35 interceptions. During Hackett's tenure, the 49ers won their second Super Bowl and made two other playoff appearances.

Following his three-year stay with the 49ers, Hackett served a three-year term ('86-88) as the Dallas Cowboys pass offensive coordinator under Tom Landry and then moved to the University of Pittsburgh, where he remained for four years ('89-92).

Hackett spent one season as Pitt's quarterbacks coach before being named head coach one hour before the Panthers' John Hancock Bowl appearance on December 30 of '89. In three seasons as Pitt's head coach, he oversaw the development of quarterback Alex Van Pelt, who finished in the NCAA's Top 10 in total offense as a junior and senior. Although Pitt managed just a 3-9 record in '92, the team's offense was among college football's finest, finishing eighth in the NCAA in both total offense (452.4 yards per game) and passing offense (290.3 yards per game).

As a college senior at UC-Davis in '69, Hackett led the Far West Conference in passing, and remained at his alma mater for two seasons as head freshman coach. He then spent two seasons as a graduage assistant at Cal-Berkeley before becoming the Bears quarterbacks coach in '74-75. At Cal, he helped Steve Bartkowski become the nation's leading passer in '74, and the following year, the school's offense topped the nation. In '76, he moved downstate to USC, where he was assistant head coach to John Robinson and worked with a pair of Heisman Trophy winners in Marcus Allen and Charles White, while cultivating standout quarterbacks like Vince Evans and Paul McDonald. During his tenure, the Trojans won three Rose Bowls and were declared national champions in '79.

Hackett's pro coaching career began in '81, when he took a post as the Cleveland Browns quarterbacks coach under Sam Rutigliano. There, he worked with Brian Sipe, who led the Browns to the playoffs in '82. Schottenheimer was the Browns defensive coordinator at the time.

Hackett was born on July 5, 1947, in Burlington, Vermont, but spent most of his youth in Northern California. He and his wife, Elizabeth, reside in Kansas City, and have two sons, David (22) and Nathaniel (13).

Hackett's Coaching Career: University of California-Davis 1970-71; University of California 1972-75; University of Southern California 1976-80; Cleveland Browns 1981-82; San Francisco 49ers 1983-85; Dallas Cowboys 1986-88; University of Pittsburgh 1989-92 (head coach 1990-92); joined Chiefs in 1993.

MIKE McCARTHY, Offensive Assistant/Quality Control

Mike McCarthy was added to the Chiefs coaching staff this year as offensive assistant/quality control, a newly-created position. McCarthy will help the coaching staff break down video and analyze opposing defenses, and will be involved in self-scouting the Chiefs own offense.

The 29-year-old McCarthy spent '92 as the University of Pittsburgh's receivers coach under Paul Hackett, the Chiefs new offensive coordinator. Last season Pitt's offense ranked eighth in the nation, and the school's top receiver, Dietrich Jells, ranked 12th in the country in receiving yards per game (90.0). Before taking over as the Panthers' receivers coach, he was part of Pitt's coaching staff as a graduate assistant. In '89 he was a volunteer coach at Pitt, while the two previous seasons, he served as linebackers coach at Fort Hays (Kansas) State.

A starting tight end for two years at Baker University in Baldwin City, Kansas, McCarthy twice earned all-conference honors and was a team captain on the '86 NAIA Division II national champion runner-up squad. He also played tight end at Scottsdale (Ariz.) Junior College. He graduated from Baker with a business administration degree in '87, and went on to earn a master's degree in sports administration at Fort Hays State.

Born November 10, 1963, in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, Mike and his wife, Christine, have one daughter, Alexandra (2) and reside in Kansas City.

McCarthy's Coaching Career: Fort Hays State University 1977-88; University of Pittsburgh 1989-92; joined Chiefs in 1993.

TOM PRATT, Defensive Line

During the past four years, Tom Pratt has made a notable impact on a young, talented Chiefs defensive line. The previous three seasons, Pratt's line played a major role in Kansas City's "big play" defense. From '90-92, the Chiefs have produced 149 sacks, the second-most in the NFL, and 58 fumble recoveries, tying with New Orleans for the most in the league. The defensive line has generated 71 of the sacks, while also adding 21 fumble recoveries and 19 forced fumbles.

Pratt, who enters his 30th season as an NFL defensive assistant, has aided in the rapid development of Neil Smith and Dan Saleaumua, two of the NFL's best defensive linemen. Smith, a Pro Bowl choice the past two seasons, has 277 tackles, 39½ sacks, 13 forced fumbles and eight fumble recoveries since Pratt's arrival in '89. Saleaumua has been the top tackler on the line the past three seasons and leads all NFL defenders with 14 fumble recoveries the past four years. The same impact Pratt had on Smith and Saleaumua should benefit up-and-coming linemen like Darren Mickell, Mike Evans and Tom Sims.

Pratt is in his second stint as the Chiefs defensive line coach, having served in the same capacity under Hank Stram and Paul Wiggin from '63-77. Following his 15-year stay in Kansas City, he made stops at New Orleans ('78-80) and Cleveland ('81-88).

Under Pratt's tutelage the Browns defensive front played a vital role in four consecutive playoff visits. Pratt's unit helped the Browns achieve the sixth-rated defense in the NFL in '88, while in '87, Cleveland allowed the AFC's fewest rushing yards and permitted the league's fewest touchdowns.

The 58-year-old Beloit, Wisconsin, native got his first pro coaching experience with the Chiefs when he joined Stram's staff in '63. During his stay in Kansas City, the Chiefs made two Super Bowl appearances, following the '66 and '69 seasons, and earned an NFL Championship when the Chiefs won Super Bowl IV. One of his finest coaching accomplishments was the defensive line formation of tackles Buck Buchanan and Curley Culp with ends Jerry Mays and Aaron Brown that led the Chiefs to their only NFL title.

After playing linebacker at the University of Miami from '53-56, Pratt stayed at his alma mater as a Hurricane assistant for four years. He coached at the University of Southern Mississippi from '61-62 before joining Stram's staff in Kansas City.

Born June 21, 1935, Tom and his wife, Hope, live in Leawood, Kansas, and have three children, Kendra (31), Shana (28) and Tyler (22).

Pratt's Coaching Career: University of Miami 1957-60; University of Southern Mississippi 1961-62; Kansas City Chiefs 1963-77; New Orleans Saints 1978-80; Cleveland Browns 1981-88; rejoined Chiefs in 1989.

JIMMY RAYE, Running Backs

Jimmy Raye, who is considered one of the NFL's brightest offensive minds, takes over as the Chiefs running backs coach after spending last season as an offensive assistant/tight ends coach with the club. Ray has been an assistant coach in the NFL the past 16 years, serving as an offensive coordinator as well as a receivers and running backs coach. Under his tutelage, two different receivers (Alfred Jenkins and Henry Ellard) and tight ends (Junior Miller and Jimmie Giles) have participated in the Pro Bowl.

In '91, the 47-year-old Raye served as the Los Angeles Rams wide receivers coach and passing game coordinator. He spent '90 as the New England Patriots offensive coordinator. He started his professional coaching career in '77 as the San Francisco 49ers receivers coach, working with 49er great Gene Washington. In '78-79, he tutored the Detroit Lions offensive backs. Chiefs Head Coach Marty Schottenheimer was on the Lions coaching staff at the same time. He then began the first of two stints with the Atlanta Falcons, coaching the receivers there from '80-82, when he shared in an NFC West title and two playoff berths, and again from '87-89. In '83 he served as the Rams receivers coach, and in '84, he was promoted to offensive coordinator. In '85-86 he was the Tampa Bay Buccaneers offensive coordinator.

Raye spent one season ('69) as a defensive back with the Philadelphia Eagles. He then returned to his alma mater, Michigan State, as an assistant coach in '71. He stayed with the Spartans for five years before moving on to Wyoming, where he spent one season.

Raye was a quarterback at Michigan State from '65-67, and led the Spartants to a pair of Big Ten Conference titles, including a Rose Bowl appearance ('66). He started for the Spartans in the "Battle of the Century," the '66 game between Michigan State and Notre Dame, the top two ranked teams in the nation, that ended in a 10-10 tie.

Born March 26, 1946 in Fayetteville, North Carolina, Jimmy and his wife, Edwena, live in Kansas City. They have two children, Robin (25) and Jimmy III (23), who was a receiver at San Diego State from '88-90.

Raye's Coaching Career: Michigan State 1971-75; Wyoming 1976; San Francisco 49ers 1977; Detroit Lions 1978-79; Atlanta Falcons 1980-82, 1987-89; Los Angeles Rams 1983-84, 1991; Tampa Bay Buccaneers 1985-86; New England Patriots 1990; joined Chiefs in 1992.

DAVE REDDING, Strength and Conditioning

A good portion of the credit for the Chiefs becoming one of the NFL's premier teams must go to Dave Redding, who coordinates the club's off-season strength and conditioning program and the in-season maintenance efforts. One of the most highly-respected strength coaches in all of football, Redding redesigned the club's weight-training facilities and instituted a personalized conditioning program in '89, his first year with the Chiefs. Redding has created an environment that keeps players training in Kansas City year-round. More than 75% of the club's players participate in the volunteer programs on a regular basis.

"Dave Redding, in my opinion, is the very best in the field," said head coach Marty Schottenheimer. "He's a tough and demanding coach who sets high standards. Dave works very closely with the players and produces great results."

The 41-year-old Redding became the Browns first strength and conditioning coach in '82 and stayed in that capacity until joining the Chiefs in '89. A 41-year-old native of North Platte, Nebraska, Redding instituted a highly-successful program with the Browns that included weightlifting, but also put an emphasis on flexibility, running, plyometric drills and speed enhancement — all of which he has stressed to Chiefs players the past four off-seasons.

Before working with professional athletes, Redding spent six years as a collegiate strength coach. He spent one year at the University of Nebraska ('76), his alma mater, one at Washington State University ('77) and four at the University of Missouri ('78-81). He worked with the defensive ends in addition to his strength duties at Washington State.

Redding was a three-year letter winner at Nebraska, where he played defensive end. Upon completion of his bachelor of science degree in physical education, he worked as a graduate assistant at Nebraska in '76.

Born June 14, 1952, Dave lives in Lee's Summit, Missouri, and has one daughter, Taylor Reta (6).

Redding's Coaching Career: University of Nebraska 1976; Washington State University 1977; University of Missouri 1978-81; Cleveland Browns 1982-88; joined Chiefs in 1989.

AL SAUNDERS, Assistant Head Coach/Receivers

Regarded as one of the finest offensive minds in professional football, Al Saunders begins his fifth season with the Chiefs. Saunders has served as both a head coach and offensive coordinator during his coaching career, and under his direction, Kansas City's receivers have continued to blossom.

Saunders has a knack for getting the most out of young receivers. Last season, he turned a young, largely unheralded group of receivers into one of the most exciting and productive units in the entire league. First-year free agent wide receiver Willie Davis led the NFL with an average of 21.0 yards per catch, hauling in 36 passes for 756 yards. J.J. Birden continued to improve in his fourth pro season, recording a career-high 42 catches for 644 yards and three touchdowns. Together, Davis and Birden averaged 17.9 yards per catch, the second-highest of any wide receiver duo in the league. In just two seasons, Tim Barnett has already caught 65 passes for 1,006 yards and nine scores. Saunders has also overseen the positive strides taken by up-and-coming receivers Fred Jones and Tony Hargain. In '92, the Chiefs wide receivers averaged 16.9 yards per catch, even though no receiver is over the age of 27.

His relentless efforts and "hands on" approach should help the fledgling Chiefs receivers climb to the levels of some of his other star pupils.

Saunders has had a dramatic impact on an impressive list of offensive players since his coaching career began in '70. During his 23 years as a coach on both the college and professional levels, he has been central in the development of Charlie Joiner, Kellen Winslow, Wes Chandler, Pete Holohan, Lynn Swann, Wesley Walker, Henry Marshall, Willie Gault, Tim McGee, Anthony Miller, Gary Anderson and Lionel James.

Saunders served as head coach of the San Diego Chargers from the midpoint of the '86 season through the '88 campaign. He guided the club to a 17-22 record, including an 8-7 record in '87, which was the team's first winning mark in five years. Under his direction in '87, the Chargers won eight straight games, the club's longest winning streak in 26 seasons.

The 46-year-old Saunders joined the Chargers in '83 as receivers coach in what was one of the most exciting and prolific pass offenses in NFL history. San Diego led the league in passing yardage in '83 and '85.

Saunders entered the NFL after 13 years as a successful college assistant coach. He began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at the University of Southern California in '70-71. He then coached the receivers at the University of Missouri in '72 and was the offensive backfield coach at Utah State from '73-75. He was assistant head coach and offensive coordinator at the University of California from '76-81, leading an offense that set 32 national, conference and school records. In '82 he was offensive coordinator at the University of Tennessee, where he coached standout receivers Gault and McGee.

Saunders was born in London, England, which made him only the third foreign-born head coach in NFL history. He became a naturalized U.S. citizen in '60. He was a four-year starter, team captain and an Academic All-America as a defensive back at San Jose State ('66-69) and is also enshrined in the school's Hall of Fame. He graduated with honors as a physical education and English major in '69 and obtained a master's degree in education from Stanford in '70. As recipient of California State's Graduate Fellowship for Academic Excellence, he was a doctorial candidate in athletic administration and sports management at USC. Saunders has been recognized in Who's Who in America and was awarded California's prestigious Golden State Award for community leadership and service in '89.

Born February 1, 1947, Al and his wife, Karen, reside in Overland Park, Kansas, with their two sons, Bobby (16) and Joey (13) and daughter Korrin (12).

Saunders' Coaching Career: University of Southern California 1970-71; University of Missouri 1972; Utah State University 1973-75; University of California 1976-81; University of Tennessee 1982; San Diego Chargers 1983-88 (head coach 1986-88); joined Chiefs in 1989.

KURT SCHOTTENHEIMER, Special Teams

Kurt Schottenheimer begins his fifth season as the Chiefs special teams coach. Since his arrival, the club has maintained its kick-blocking superiority and made impressive advances on both kickoffs and punts. In his four seasons with the team, the special teams have accounted for six touchdowns and 15 blocked kicks.

The Chiefs special teams were spectacular as usual last season. The unit scored three touchdowns, two on punt returns by rookie Dale Carter, blocked two field goals, deflected another, and rejected one punt. Kansas City's punt return average of 10.3 yards was the team's best in 11 years, while the club's net punting average of 35.4 yards was the best since '84. Kicker Nick Lowery made 22 of 24 field goals, and ventured to his second Pro Bowl under Schottenheimer. Punter Bryan Barker easily had his best NFL season, putting up a 43.3-yard gross average, the team's best in eight years.

Schottenheimer was the co-winner of the NFL 1990 Special Teams Coach of the Year Award. Under his guidance that season, Kansas City's special teams units reached new heights. The Chiefs blocked an NFL-record six punts during the regular season and added another during the playoff loss to Miami. The club also rejected a field goal and deflected a punt. Two of the blocked punts were returned for touchdowns. Lowery also prospered under Schottenheimer's watchful eye. He was voted to the Pro Bowl after making 34 of 37 field goal tries, good for 91.9%, the fourth-highest single-season total in league history.

Schottenheimer, the younger brother of Chiefs head coach Marty Schottenheimer, is in his fifth season as an NFL assistant. He joined the Chiefs in '89 after spending two years as the Browns special teams coach.

In '88 Schottenheimer's kickoff coverage unit ranked second in the NFL with a 16.2-yard average while the Browns kickoff return unit placed sixth in the league with a 21.1-yard average. That season, the Browns also blocked two punts, both for touchdowns, and one field goal. In '87 opponents returned just 17 punts, by far the lowest number in the league.

A 43-year-old native of McDonald, Pennsylvania, Schottenheimer entered the pro ranks after putting together an impressive major college coaching resume. He served as Lou Holtz's linebackers coach at the University of Notre Dame in '86. Prior to that appointment, he spent two seasons ('84-85) as linebackers coach at Louisiana State University under defensive genius Bill Arnsparger.

Schottenheimer started his coaching career from '74-75 as the defensive coordinator at William Patterson State College in New Jersey. He spent the '77 season at Ridgefield Park (N.J.) High School, and the following five seasons ('78-82) at Michigan State University, the first two as a graduate assistant coaching defensive backs under Darryl Rogers. He coached the Spartans outside linebackers his last three years, with All-America pick Carl Banks, among his pupils. He coached at Tulane University in '83.

Scottenheimer was a J.C. All-America quarterback at Coffeyville (Kan.) Junior College, where he led the nation in passing as a sophomore. He moved on to the University of Miami, where he started his last two years as a defensive back and earned his bachelor's degree in education in '71.

Born October 1, 1949, Kurt and his wife Colleen, have two daughters, Steele (10) and Sloane (7), and live in Overland Park, Kansas.

Schottenheimer's Coaching Career: William Patterson State College 1974-75; Michigan State University 1978-82; Tulane University 1983; Louisiana State University 1984-85; University of Notre Dame 1986; Cleveland Browns 1987-88; joined Chiefs in 1989.

DARVIN WALLIS, Special Assistant/Quality Control

Darvin Wallis, an 22-year coaching veteran, is responsible for the team's game analysis, including film breakdown, computer data, self-scouting and the analysis of opponents' offenses. Wallis is also responsible for defensive quality control and developmental studies and research. He joined the Chiefs after spending seven years in the same capacity with the Browns organization.

"Darvin is a fine, young coach and a tireless worker who watches more video than anyone in the organization," said head coach Marty Schottenheimer. "He is responsible for all phases of quality control and computer data."

The 44-year-old Ft. Branch, Indiana, native joined the Browns in '82 after tutoring the tight ends and tackles at the University of Mississippi for two seasons ('80-81). During his two seasons there he was also heavily involved in the school's computer scouting system. Wallis was the offensive line and strength coach at Tulane University from '78-79 and oversaw the offensive front at Adams State College in Alamosa, Colorado, from '76-77.

After graduating from the University of Arizona, where he played defensive end, Wallis earned his master's degree at Adams State. He entered the coaching world in '71 at Wilcox (Ariz.) High School, then served as head coach at Ajo (Ariz.) High School from '72-75.

Born February 14, 1949, Darvin and his wife, Vicky, reside in Overland Park, Kansas, with their three children, Darvin, Jr. (10), Tyson (7) and Austin (5).

Wallis' Coaching Background: Adams State College 1976-77; Tulane University 1978-79; University of Mississippi 1980-81; Cleveland Browns 1982-88; joined Chiefs in 1989.

PLAYER PERSONNEL STAFF

LYNN STILES, Vice President of Player Personnel

Stiles, who begins his 15th season in the NFL, joined the Chiefs last year as Vice President of Player Personnel. He succeeds Whitey Dovell, who passed away in May of '92. Stiles oversees all of the club's scouting operations. He joined the Chiefs as a consultant to the personnel department in February of '92 and was elevated to his current position in May of that year.

Last season, he helped the Chiefs procure a number of talented players that made major contributions in the club's third-straight playoff season. In the first round of the draft, he landed cornerback/kick returner Dale Carter, the '92 NFL Defensive Rookie of the Year, and in the supplemental draft, he tabbed defensive end Darren Mickell, a young player with a world of potential. Through free agency, the Chiefs were able to acquire three starters: quarterback Dave Krieg, strong safety Martin Bayless and defensive tackle Joe Phillips. Free agency also brought safeties Bennie Thompson and Doug Terry, tight ends Keith Cash and Mike Dyal, wide receiver Tony Hargain, and cornerback Tahaun Lewis.

The 52-year-old Stiles rejoined Carl Peterson, the Chiefs President/General Manager. Stiles and Peterson worked together from '72-75 at UCLA and from '79-82 in the Philadelphia Eagles organization.

Stiles was previously an assistant coach with the San Francisco 49ers. He joined Bill Walsh's staff in '87 as special teams coach, and was promoted to special teams coordinator and tight ends coach in '89 by Head Coach George Seifert. In '91, he picked up additional duties as offensive line assistant. He helped the 49ers win back-to-back Super Bowl titles in '88-89.

Prior to his five-year stint with the 49ers, Stiles served as an assistant coach and player personnel executive director with the Eagles. From '79-82, he coached the special teams and tight ends, while serving as an administrative assistant to head coaches Dick Vermeil and Marion Campbell. He then followed Peterson as Director of Player Personnel and was eventually made Executive Director of Player Personnel with the club. He helped Philadelphia acquire such talents as quarterback Randall Cunningham, defensive end Reggie White, linebacker Seth Joyner, defensive end Clyde Simmons, safety Wes Hopkins, safety Andre Waters and running back Keith Byars.

Stiles was the Head Coach at San Jose State from '76-78, compiling an 18-16 record and two conference championships. During his first season with the Spartans, he oversaw the development of quarterback Steve DeBerg, who was named Pacific Coast Athletic Conference MVP in his only year of major college football. He served assistantships at Utah ('63-65), Iowa ('66-70) and UCLA ('71-75) before taking over the San Jose State position.

Stiles played guard at Utah from '61-62, taking part in the '62 All-American Bowl. He was an all-state pick and captain of his football squad at Reno (Nev.) High School.

Born April 12, 1941, in Kermit, Texas, Lynn and his wife, Marigene, live in Kansas City, and have four children, Staci (26), Shon (12), Tiffany (26) and Blake (22).

MARK HATLEY, Director of Pro Personnel

Mark Hatley, who has been with the Chiefs since 1987, was promoted to Director of Pro Personnel in '91. After coaching the club's linebackers for one season, he joined the team's scouting department, where he has played a vital role, especially in the procurement of pro personnel. Hatley's primary focus has been with the scounting of unprotected "Plan B" players and other available free agents. Hatley came to Kansas City after a two-year stint with the New Orleans Saints.

Hatley's first NFL experience was with the Saints in 1984-85, when his duties included scouting and defensive quality control. He moved into the pro ranks after 11 years as an assistant coach on the college level. The former Oklahoma State linebacker, following his graduation in 1972, coached three years at his alma mater. He then moved to Tulsa for one season in 1976 before spending six years at Texas Christian (1977-82). He joined the Baylor staff in 1983 for a year before landing his first NFL job with the Saints.

A 43-year-old native of Borger, Texas, Hatley and his wife, Claudia, have one daughter, Eliza, and reside in Overland Park, Kansas.

TERRY BRADWAY, National Scout

Terry Bradway, who has a diversified football background as a player, coach and scout, enters his second season in the Chiefs organization as the club's national scout.

The 38-year-old Bradway came to Kansas City after spending five years as a full-time scout with the New York Giants. He played a key role in the personnel department that helped the Giants to a victory in Super Bowl XXV. He served as a part-time scout with the Giants following a three-year run ('83-85) as Assistant Director of Player Personnel for the USFL's Philadelphia/Baltimore Stars. During his stay in the USFL, he served under Chiefs President/General Manager Carl Peterson, who held the same title with the Stars.

Before entering the pro ranks, Bradway was an assistant coach at the United States Merchant Marine Academy at Kings Point, New York. Prior to that he was a graduate assistant at the University of Cincinnati. He earned a master's degree in health and physical education from Glassboro (N.J.) State. He was a three-year letter winner as a defensive back at Trenton State College, where he received a degree in health and physical education.

Bradway played prep football at Holy Sprit High School in Absecon, New Jersey. Born May 19, 1955, in Trenton, Terry and his wife, Kathleen, have two children, Michael (6) and Jennifer (4).

KEN BLAIR, Pro Scout

Ken Blair, who enters his 11th year as a pro scout, is the newest addition to the Chiefs player personnel department. He will serve as the Chiefs pro scout.

The 52-year-old Blair was in the Broncos personnel department from '85-92. He most recently covered the Atlantic Coast region for Denver. Prior to joining the Broncos, he was a member of the Philadelphia Eagles player personnel department.

Before becoming a scout, Blair spent 20 years as a college assistant coach for three high-profile programs. From '74-82, he coached at Georgia Tech, and before that he served as an assistant at UCLA ('71-73) and Colorado ('63-70). He was an All-Big Eight tight end and linebacker at Colorado, where he played from '60-62.

Ken and his wife, Mary Sue, reside in Kansas City, and have two sons, Mike and Mitch.

BILL BAKER, Talent Scout

Bill Baker, who has been a coach or scout since 1955, begins his fifth year with the Chiefs. Baker is responsible for the southwest region of the country.

Before coming to Kansas City, Baker was most recently a scout for the Philadelphia Eagles from '84-87. Prior to that, he was a scout for the Tampa Bay Buccaneers ('83) and player personnel director of the USFL's Arizona Wranglers ('82). He scouted for the Eagles previously from '75-81, serving under Chiefs President/General Manager Carl Peterson, who was Philadelphia's player personnel chief from '77-81.

The 64-year-old native of Knoxville, Tennessee, played college football at Tennessee ('47-49) and at Wyoming ('50-51) as a center and linebacker. From '55-61 he was head coach at Chadron (Neb.) State College, where he registered a 30-26-1 record. He then moved to Wyoming, where he was the offensive line and kicking coaching from '62-70. He performed those same duties at Arizona from '71-72.

Bill and his wife, Marjorie, reside in Tuscon, Arizona. They have one daughter, Vicky, and two sons, Bill, Jr. (a scout with the New Orleans Saints), and Mike.

CHUCK COOK, Talent Scout

In his 10th year as a talent scout for the Chiefs, Chuck Cook joined the club's personnel department in 1984 after a four-year coaching career on both the college and professional level. His area of concentration as a Chiefs scout is the country's southeast region.

Cook came to Kansas City after serving two years as an offensive assistant with the Arizona Wrangers of the USFL. He began coaching in 1980 as a graduate assistant at the University of Wyoming.

A native of Andalusia, Alabama, Cook was a wide receiver and defensive back at Southern Mississippi. He graduated in 1980, and after several tryouts in the NFL as a player, began his coaching career later that year. His father, Hamp, is a scout with the New Orleans Saints. He resides in Hattiesburg, Mississippi.

ROGER JACKSON, Talent Scout

Roger Jackson, a veteran of the NFL as both a player and scout, joined the Chiefs player personnel department as a talent scout in June of '92.

The 34-year-old Jackson spent four years as a scout with the Denver Broncos and one season as a collegiate coach before joining the Chiefs. He was a regional scout for the Broncos in '87-88 and again in '90-91. In '89, he coached the defensive backs at Howard University.

Jackson played five seasons as a defensive back with the Broncos ('82-85 and '87). He played in a total of 53 games, collecting two interceptions and one fumble recovery. He joined the Broncos as a rookie free agent out of Bethune-Cookman in '82.

Jackson earned four letters as a defensive back and kick return specialist at Bethune-Cookman. He also competed in track as a long jumper, earning a pair of letters. He graduated from Bethune-Cookman with a degree in physical education.

Born February 28, 1959 in Macon, Georgia, Roger is single and lives in his hometown.

FRED SCHUBACH, Talent Scout

A 25-year NFL scouting veteran, Fred Schubach begins his sixth season as a talent scout for the Chiefs. His responsibilities are primarily in the northeast region of the country where he resides.

Schubach spent 10 years as the player personnel director of the Baltimore Colts. He began his tenure as head of the Colts scouting operations in 1973, staying until the franchise moved to Indianapolis.

After his departure from the Colts, Schubach served as a talent scout for the Buffalo Bills from 1983-84. In 1985 he established his own scouting combine and worked the east coast region for the Chicago Bears and Los Angeles Raiders. He joined the Chiefs staff in 1986. Fred has two sons, Fred, Jr. (36) and Richard (34).

LAMONTE WINSTON
Talent Scout/Administrative Assistant

Lamonte Winston enters his first year with the Chiefs, as a talent scout and administrative assistant in the player personnel department.

The 34-year-old Winston spent the past three years as the running backs coach at the University of Nevada. Before joining the Wolfpack coaching staff, he spent four years at San Francisco State, where he coached the receivers and secondary prior to becoming offensive coordinator. He also coached at Merritt Junior College and Albany (Cal.) High School.

Winston started his college playing career at Merritt JUCO, then moved on to Westminster College in Utah, where he was third in the nation (NAIA) in receiving. When Westminster dropped football, he transferred to San Francisco State. He graduated from San Francisco State in '85 with a physical education major.

Lamonte is single and resides in Kansas City.

FOOTBALL STAFF

ANDRE BRUCE
Head Groundskeeper

After serving his apprenticeship under George Toma for 13 years, Andre Bruce was elevated to his present position of Head Groundskeeper in March of '90. Bruce replaces Chip Toma, who was promoted to Head Groundskeeper for the Truman Sports Complex earlier in '90.

Since '76, Bruce has served the Chiefs and the NFL on many assignments, including work on 13 Super Bowls and ten Pro Bowl games. Bruce began working for the Chiefs shortly after graduating from Central High School in Kansas City, Missouri, in May of '76.

THE CHIEFS AMBASSADORS

Players Helping Players and the Community

In 1989 several former players met with the management of the Kansas City Chiefs with the idea of volunteering to work with the team to promote goodwill in the community and to assist in any way they could to help achieve the goal of consistent quality football for the fans of Kansas City. The idea was heartily endorsed by the management and by coach Marty Schottenheimer who actively involved former players while in Cleveland. Since then the Ambassadors have developed into an organization which has been highly successful in achieving its objectives.

The primary purpose of the Ambassadors is four-fold:

1. To support the Kansas City Chiefs football team and organization. This support includes VIP entertainment, public appearances on behalf of the team, assisting the staff in sales and public relations, and visiting suiteholders, tailgate parties, and fan gatherings on Gameday.
2. To assist the current players by helping them become assimilated into the Kansas City area, locate off season employment or employment once their football career is over, and by acting as a liason between them and alumni. They also support and encourage the players at home and on the road as only another player can.
3. To provide an opportunity for former Chiefs players to remain actively involved with the Chiefs.
4. To serve as a goodwill extension of the Chiefs by being involved with the community, charities, and the fans. Current events include a charity golf tournament, numerous community speaking engagements, development of a fund to assist former players suffering financial hardship, and assisting current players in their charitable endeavors.

The Ambassadors have grown into a close knit group which is recognized throughout the NFL as an innovative and worthy cause for former players. Numerous teams have plans to develop a similar program. The program in Kansas City continues to grow and exciting improvements are underway.

AMBASSADOR OFFICERS

President – Walter White
Vice President – Ed Lothamer
Vice President – Ted McKnight
Treasurer – Larry Marshall

Ambassador Members: Bobby Bell, Mike Bell, Ed Budde, Deron Cherry, Ken Kremer, Charlie Getty, Dave Lindstrom, Henry Marshall, Curtis McClinton, Bobby Ply and Otis Taylor.

FAN-TASTIC

- The Chiefs have sold out 16 straight games, including the playoffs.
- The past two seasons, the Chiefs have averaged 73,752 fans at home, the third-highest figure in the NFL behind Buffalo (78,693) and Denver (73,870).
- In '93, the Chiefs cut off season-ticket sales at 69,000, giving the team its largest base of season-ticket holders in 20 years.
- Last season, the Chiefs attracted 581,924 fans to Arrowhead Stadium, the second-most in team history (598,094 in '91).
- The Chiefs have attracted over 560,000 fans (70,000 average) in each of the past three seasons.
- In '92, the Chiefs averaged 72,741 fans at home, the third-most in the NFL behind Buffalo (77,917) and Denver (74,713).

CHIEFS RADIO NETWORK

For the fourth straight year, all Chiefs games will be carried in Kansas City by KCFX Radio/101 FM. The Chiefs Radio Network, with KCFX as its anchor, extends throughout a six-state region that includes Missouri, Kansas, Iowa, Nebraska, California and Illinois. KCFX will broadcast all Chiefs regular and preseason games live. The broadcast team of Kevin Harlan, Len Dawson and Bill Grigsby begin their ninth season together in the booth. Harlan, whose voice can also be heard on Minnesota Timberwolves games, handles the play-by-play for the ninth year in a row. Adding the color analysis is Hall of Fame quarterback Len Dawson, the Chiefs all-time leading passer. Bill Grigsby, who has been on the Chiefs broadcast team since the club's first year in Kansas City, will also provide expert analysis. Bob Gretz, sports director at KCFX, will add pre- and post-game comments for the fourth straight season.

Has 43 kicks inside opponents' 20-yard line against just 20 touchbacks . . . Has been blocked just once in 197 punt attempts. 1992: Enjoyed by far his finest season, although he was one bad game from being waived early in the season . . . Showed tenacity and strong nature by finishing the campaign with a career-high 43.3-yard gross average, the best by a Kansas City punter since '84 (Jim Arnold, 44.9) . . . That average was good enough for fourth place in the AFC and eighth in the NFL . . . The only punter with a better gross average whose home stadium is not a dome was the Giants Sean Landeta (43.7) . . . His 35.5-yard net average was a career best . . . Missed one game (Patriots, 12/13) after suffering a shoulder subluxation vs. L.A. Raiders (12/6) on first block of his career . . . Despite the painful shoulder injury, he punted in the final two regular season games plus the playoffs . . . Finished the season strong with a 44.6-yard average in his last eight games, including a career-best 49.3-yard averge on six punts vs. Denver (12/27); had a booming, career-long 65-yarder in that game . . . Punted eight times for a 45.0-yard average with four inside the 20 in the playoff game at San Diego (1/2/93). 1991: His 40.4-yard gross punting average was the highest for a Kansas City punter since '87 (Goodburn, 40.9) . . . Had a sparkling, 35.0-yard net average, the best for a Chiefs punter since '84 (Jim Arnold, 37.5) . . . Gross average and net average both ranked 10th in the AFC . . . Placed 11 punts inside the 20 with just six touchbacks . . . Had just 27 punts returned, third-fewest in the AFC and fourth-fewest in the NFL . . . Played major role in Chiefs 20-17 overtime victory over San Diego (12/8), placing two punts inside the Chargers five-yard line in extra period . . . Served as the sure-handed holder on all of Nick Lowery's field goal and PAT attempts . . . Had eight punts of 50+ yards, including a career-long 57-yarder vs. Miami (10/13) . . . Had career-high 46.0-yard gross average on four punts vs. Seattle (9/22) . . . In two postseason games, he punted nine times for a 41.6-yard average (35.4 net). 1990: Competed with Goodburn during training camp, and was waived after the third preseason game . . . Was re-signed by the club on September 26 . . . Was an all-rookie selection of UPI, The National and Football News . . . Finished 11th in the AFC with a 38.7-yard gross average and was 11th in net punting average with a 33.4 mark . . . His one touchback was the lowest among NFL punters with at least 50 punts . . . Placed 16 boots inside the oppositions' 20-yard line . . . Best game came at Indianapolis (10/7), when he punted four times for a 45.5-yard average . . . Had a streak of 10 straight games without a touchback . . . Had three punts of 50 yards or more, including a season-long 56-yarder vs. Seattle (11/11) . . . Had four punts for a 35.0-yard average with three inside the 20 in postseason loss at Miami (1/5/91). Pre-Chiefs: Spent '89 in Seahawks training camp but was released prior to the start of the regular season . . . Had a tryout with the Broncos in '88 . . . Played semi-pro football for the Auburn Panthers in '87.

College/Personal: Set several Santa Clara records in four seasons as school's punter ('82-85) . . . Established career punts record with 248, for a 37.8-yard average . . . His 74 punts as a freshman set a school standard . . . Had a school-record 49.8-yard average vs. Humboldt State in '84; had an 81-yard boot in that game . . . Was a punter and starting free safety at Miramonte High School in Orinda, California . . . Also lettered in golf . . . Graduated from Santa Clara with an economics degree . . . Full name: Bryan Christopher Barker . . . Married, wife Leah, one son, Colin (2).

Suffered injury in final preseason outing and was placed on injured reserve for four weeks . . . His nine catches and 83 yards were his lowest totals since '86 . . . Made a one-yard touchdown grab in victory over Detroit (10/14) . . . Caught one pass for five yards in playoff loss at Miami (1/5/91). 1989: Started all 16 games for the first time in his career and finished fifth NFL campaign with 18 receptions for 229 yards (12.7 avg.) and two touchdowns . . . The two scoring grabs tied a career high ('87) . . . Had 11 of his 18 catches in the final five games of the year . . . Caught a seven-yard touchdown pass from Steve DeBerg in 34-0 rout of Houston (11/26) and had an 11-yard touchdown catch from DeBerg in 21-3 victory at Green Bay (12/10) . . . Had two four-catch games, accumulating 53 yards at Green Bay and 62 yards in season finale at Miami (12/24) . . . Added six special teams tackles. 1988: Started the final nine games of the season after beginning the year as a backup . . . Collected a career-high 22 catches for 233 yards, his second-highest total, and one touchdown . . . Finished strong with 15 receptions for 159 yards and a touchdown in the final four outings of the year . . . Tied a career-high with five catches for a season-best 64 yards at N.Y. Giants (12/11). 1987: Started eight of final nine games after starter Walt Arnold was sidelined with a season-ending knee injury . . . Finished fourth on the team in receptions with 21 and third in receiving yardage with 272 . . . Enjoyed finest outing of career vs. N.J. Jets (11/15) when he recorded personal highs of 105 receiving yards and five receptions . . . The 105-yard total was the fourth-highest ever by a Chiefs tight end and only the eighth 100-yard game by a tight end in team history . . . Also had the longest reception of career vs. Jets, a 33-yarder from Frank Seurer . . . Caught a 15-yard touchdown pass at Chicago (11/1) and a seven-yarder for a touchdown at Detroit (11/26). 1986: Caught eight passes for 69 yards, all coming in the first 12 games of the season . . . Officially started four games in two-tight end formations . . . Key special teams performer who ranked fifth in tackles with 16. 1985: Worked his way into Chiefs passing offense the second half of rookie season . . . All five receptions for 39 yards came in the final six games of the season . . . First NFL catches came the 11th week vs. San Francisco (11/17), when he had two eight-yard receptions from Todd Blackledge in the fourth quarter . . . Made his first NFL touchdown grab in the season finale vs. San Diego (12/22), a six-yard pass from Bill Kenney that became the winning score in a 38-34 victory . . . Led the Chiefs kicking teams in solo tackles with 15 and added two assists . . . Was the first tight end selected in the '85 draft, the 42nd choice overall, after graduating from college a year earlier than necessary.

How Acquired: Free Agent (1992)
College: Southern Mississippi
NFL Experience: 3 (2nd with Chiefs)
Birthdate: January 29, 1966
Birthplace: Birmingham, Alabama
Residence: Kansas City, Missouri

Pro Career: Exceptionally quick outside linebacker was impressive during the '92 preseason before suffering a knee injury . . . Hopes to be healthy for the '93 preseason. 1992: Was placed on injured reserve on August 31 with a sprained knee and was sidelined for the entire season . . . Was the team's leading sacker in the '92 preseason with three; had all three vs. Buffalo (8/24) . . . Joined Chiefs as a free agent on June 5 of '92 after completing the World League season with the London Monarchs . . . Finished the WL season with 48 tackles (38 solos), one sack, one interception, one fumble recovery and one forced fumble. 1991: Spent '91 training camp with the Minnesota Vikings, but was waived during the preseason . . . Was re-signed by the Vikings in the Spring of '91. 1990: Played in nine games with the Vikings, registering six tackles . . . Made Minnesota's roster as a rookie free agent . . . Was waived by the Vikings on Nov. 19 and claimed by the Atlanta Falcons, who placed him on their practice squad for the final six weeks of the season.

College/Personal: Was an All-South and All-Independent selection as a senior at Southern Mississippi . . . Was the school's defensive MVP that year . . . Attended Leeds (Ala.) High School, where he earned all-state and All-America recognition . . . Also participated in track and basketball . . . Graduated from Southern Mississippi with a recreation degree . . . DAVE KRIEG • 17
Quarterback Ht: 6-1 Wt: 202

How Acquired: Plan B Free Agent (1992)
College: Milton
NFL Experience: 14 (2nd with Chiefs)
Birthdate: October 20, 1958
Birthplace: Iola, Wisconsin
Residence: Blue Springs, Missouri

Pro Career: Took over Kansas City's quarterbacking duties in '92 and led the team to a 10-6 record and a playoff berth . . . Enters '93 as the 10th-ranked passer in NFL history with an 82.1 passer rating . . . Joined Chiefs in '92 as a "Plan B" free agent on March 19 . . . Spent 12 extremely productive seasons with the Seattle Seahawks ('80-91) . . . Had been Seattle's starting quarterback from '83-91 . . . Has started 135 of his 145 career NFL appearances . . . Has completed 2,326 of 3,989 passes (58.3%) for 29,247 yards with 210 touchdowns and just 160 interceptions . . . Has also rushed for 1,164 yards and 12 scores . . . His 82.1 career QB rating puts him ahead of such luminaries as Bart Starr, Fran Tarkenton, Dan

Fouts, John Elway, Ken Anderson, Bernie Kosar, Boomer Esiason and Warren Moon . . . Has been a three-time Pro Bowl participant (following '84, '88 and '89 seasons) . . . Has five 3,000-yard passing seasons, including '92 when he accounted for all of the Chiefs 3,115 passing yards . . . Now stands 13th on the NFL's all-time passing touchdowns list with 210 . . . He reached 200 touchdowns in his 135th NFL game; that's quicker than all but two quarterbacks in league history: Dan Marino (89 games) and Johnny Unitas (121) . . . In '92 he moved into the NFL Top 20 in passing yards and pass completions; took over the 19th spot on the yardage list, bypassing Len Dawson (28,711), and secured the 18th slot on the completions list, jumping over Norm Snead (2,276) and Ken Stabler (2,270) . . . Needs just 19 pass attempts to bypass George Blanda (4,007) for 20th place on that all-time list . . . Last year, he set a new Chiefs single-game record for completion percentage (81.0% vs. Jets, 11/29/92) . . . Has 13 career 300-yard games, two with Kansas City and 11 with Seattle . . . In '84, he set Seattle's single-season record for passing yardage with 3,671 and touchdown passes with 32 . . . Also owns Seahawks career records for pass attempts (3,576), completions (2,096), completion percentage (58.6%), passing yards (26,132), touchdowns (195), interceptions thrown (148) and passer rating (82.3) . . . Holds Seahawks single-game marks for pass attempts (51), completions (33), yards (418), completion percentage (86.4), touchdowns (five), 300-yard games (11) and 400-yard games (four) . . . Is 80-55 as a starter during the regular season and 3-5 in the playoffs. 1992: Piloted the Chiefs offense as a starter in all 16 games after joining the team as a "Plan B" free agent from Seattle . . . Finished '92 as the AFC's sixth-ranked passer with a 79.9 rating . . . Hit on 230 of 413 passes (55.7%) for 3,115 yards with 15 touchdowns and 12 interceptions . . . Also rushed for 74 yards and two scores . . . His yards-per-attempt average of 7.54 led the AFC and ranked fourth in the NFL, and his interception percentage of 2.9 tied for the third-best in the league . . . Threw for 3,115 yards, giving him his fifth 3,000-yard season and the third-most prolific season in Chiefs history (Bill Kenney-4,348 in '83 & Steve DeBerg-3,444 in '90) . . . Set a team record in win over the Jets (12/6), completing 17 of 21 passes for a club-record 81.0% (Len Dawson was 79.2% in a '70 outing) . . . Brought the long ball back to Kansas City as he was the only NFL quarterback in '92 to toss three touchdown passes of 70 yards or more . . . Had a pair of 300-yard games, giving him 13 for his career: 301 vs. Denver (10/4) and 302 vs. Washington (11/15) . . . Threw three touchdown passes (24, 43 & 74 yards) in a game for the 24th time in the regular season vs. Philadelphia (10/11), earning AFC Offensive Player of the Week honors . . . Rushed for two touchdowns (three and seven yards) in Monday Night win over the Raiders (9/28) . . . Was the only quarterback in the NFL to throw all of his team's passes . . . Was 16-34 for 233 yards with two interceptions in playoff loss at San Diego (1/2/93). 1991: Despite spending six weeks on injured reserve with a broken thumb, he finished the year as the AFC's fourth-ranked passer with a 82.5 rating . . . In 10 games (nine starts), he was accurate on 187 of 285 passes (65.5%) for 2,080 yards with 11 touchdowns and 12 interceptions . . . His 65.5 completion percentage led the NFL and set a Seattle record . . . Started the season opener at New Orleans (9/1) and completed 26-of-35 passes for 274 yards with two touchdowns and two interceptions before suffering the thumb injury in the fourth quarter . . . Returned at Pittsburgh (10/20) to lead Seattle to a 27-7 win by completing 80.6% (25-31) of his passes, the second-best single-game accuracy mark in team history, with two touchdowns and no picks . . . Recorded his 11th 300-yard game at San Diego (11/10) with 379 yards. 1990: Was the only NFL quarterback to take every offensive snap and attempt every pass . . . Set new team records with his fourth 3,000-yard season and 10th 300-yard game . . . Kansas City fans most familiar recollection of him stems from a Nov. 11 Chiefs-Seahawks game at Arrowhead . . . On that day, Chiefs LB Derrick Thomas set an NFL record by sacking Krieg seven times . . . Krieg erased the impact of the turf-pounding by drilling a 25-yard pass to WR Paul Skansi as time expired, giving Seattle a 17-16 victory . . . He passed for 306 yards in the contest and was named AFC Offensive Player of the Week . . . Led four fourth-quarter comebacks in '90: at New England (10/7), at Kansas City (11/11), at San Diego (11/25) and vs. Houston (12/2). 1989: Broke his team record for completions with 286, despite missing 1½ games . . . Did not play at N.Y. Giants (11/19) and played only the second half the following week at Denver (11/26) . . . Equalled Jim Zorn's team records with his third 3,000-yard season and ninth 300-yard game . . . Had 311 yards and threw the game-winning TD pass with :40 left against San Diego (10/29) . . . Played in the Pro Bowl as a injury replacement. 1988: Logged seven weeks on injured reserve with a shoulder separation; happened at San Diego (9/18) . . . Returned to start the last six games as Seahawks won their first AFC West title . . . Passed for 410 yards and four touchdowns in a 43-37 win over the Raiders (12/18) to cinch the division crown . . . Had five touchdown passes, an ABC Monday Night Football record, in the first Raiders game (11/28) . . . Had a team-record 94.6 quarterback rating, the second-highest in the NFL . . . Played in the Pro Bowl as a injury replacement. 1987: Started all 12 non-strike contests and was third in the conference with an 87.6 quarterback rating . . . Ranked second in the AFC with 23 touchdown passes . . . Guided Seattle into the playoffs for the third time in five seasons. 1986: Played in 15 games, starting 14 . . . Led a wild comeback in a 37-31 win at New England (9/21) as Seattle twice overcame 10-point fourth-quarter deficits, the final time on a 67-yard TD pass with 1:06 left . . . Returned from being benched to start the last five games and finished the season as the NFL's hottest quarterback . . . Completed 76 of 116 passes for 1,288 yards with 11 touchdowns and one interception in that stretch to earn AFC Offensive Player of the Month honors, as Seattle won all five games to finish at 10-6. 1985: Started all 16 games for the second consecutive season . . . Set new team records for attempts (532), tied for completions (285) and finished second to his own mark for touchdowns (27) . . . Finished fifth in the AFC with a 76.2 rating and was second in the NFL in touchdowns and third in yards . . . Set team single-game marks with 33 completions and 51 attempts against the Falcons (10/13), throwing for 405 yards and four scores . . . Had five touchdown passes at San Diego (9/15), as he threw for 307 yards in a 49-35 win . . . Had his streak of at least one TD pass in 28 games, the NFL's second-longest ever, snapped against the Patriots (11/17). 1984: Opened all 16 games, leading the Seahawks to their best ever record, 12-4, and into the playoffs for the second straight season . . . Named to the AFC Pro Bowl squad . . . Ranked third in the AFC with an 83.3 quarterback rating and set club records for yards (3,671) and touchdowns (32) . . . The 32 scoring passes ranked as the seventh most in league history . . . Had five TD passes against the Lions (12/2) and at least two in nine games . . . Had more than 250 passing yards in eight games, with three over 300 . . . At Denver (11/25), he completed 30 of 44 passes for 406 yards and three touchdowns . . . Attempted a team-record 50 passes in the second Denver meeting (12/15), completing 30 for 334 yards. 1983: Did not see action the first seven weeks, but started the last eight games and led Seattle to their first ever playoff berth . . . Finished the season second in the AFC and fourth in the NFL with a team-record 95.0 QB rating . . . Threw for 2,139 yards and 18 touchdowns with 11 interceptions, completing a club-record 60.5% of his tosses . . . Threw for a Seattle-record 418 yards at Denver (11/20) . . . Had three consecutive games with three TD passes, including a 51-48 overtime win over the Chiefs (11/27) in which he twice rallied the Seahawks from 14-point second-half deficits . . . Completed 12 of 13 passes (92.3%) for 200 yards and three touchdowns in a 31-7 Wild Card win over the Broncos (12/24) . . . Was 15-of-28 for 192 yards with a touchdown and an interception in a 27-20 win at Miami (12/31) in the divisional playoffs . . . Directed a five-play, 66-yard drive to the winning touchdown . . . Played in the first half and one second-half series at L.A. Raiders (1/8/84) in the AFC Championship Game, completing three of nine passes for 12 yards with three interceptions. 1982: Named the starter at the end of the preseason and opened the first two games, but broke his thumb at Houston (9/19) . . . Did not see action again until the season finale against Denver (1/2/83), when he played the second half. 1981: Became the starter for the final three games after Zorn suffered a broken ankle . . . Won two of the three games . . . Was 20-of-26 passing for 264 yards with two touchdowns and three interceptions in a 27-23 win over the Jets (12/6) in his first NFL start . . . Had three scoring passes in a 42-21 win over Cleveland (12/20). 1980: Played in one regular season game, the season finale at Denver (12/21), after injuries sidelined Zorn and backup Sam Adkins . . . Played four plays, attempting two passes while being sacked once . . . Made the roster after signing as a rookie free agent.

College/Personal: Was a four-year starter at now-defunct Milton College . . . Finished seventh among NAIA passers in '79 by completing 134 of 242 passes for 1,818 yards with 17 touchdowns and 10 interceptions . . . Also ranked eighth in total offense with 1,867 yards . . . ALBERT LEWIS • 29

Cornerback Ht: 6-2 Wt: 195

How Acquired: Draft (No. 3 - 1983)
College: Grambling
NFL Experience: 11
Birthdate: October 6, 1960
Birthplace: Mansfield, Louisiana
Residence: Overland Park, Kansas

Pro Career: Considered one of the finest cornerbacks in the NFL . . . Has extraordinary man-to-man coverage skills . . . So good, he's rarely tested by opposing quarterbacks, making just 12 interceptions from '87-92 after picking off 20 passes in first four NFL seasons . . . In a league by himself as a punt blocker, batting down an incredible 10 punts during his illustrious career . . . Has been voted to the Pro Bowl four times (following the '87-90 seasons), the last three times as a starter . . . Hopes to rebound from back-to-back injury-filled seasons . . . Has been sidelined for 15 games the past two seasons, missing eight in '91 with a knee injury and another seven in '92 with a broken forearm . . . Before '91, he had missed just five non-strike games . . . Has been the Chiefs starter at left cornerback the past nine years after spending most of his rookie season as a nickel back . . . As a defender, he has collected 32 interceptions, the sixth-most in franchise history . . . As a special teams performer, he has blocked 10 punts (including playoff action), deflected two punts and tackled one punter

. . . Was named to the Chiefs 25-Year All-Time Team in '87 . . . Led all AFC interceptors with eight in '85 . . . Career totals are 136 games (115 starts), 32 interceptions, 499 tackles (405 solos), nine fumble recoveries and 4½ sacks . . . Played right corner as a rookie, then switched to the left side in '84, when Gary Green was traded, and has resided there ever since. 1992: Had returned to his Pro Bowl form before suffering a broken forearm on a freak play against the Chargers (11/8) . . . Spent the final seven weeks of the regular season on injured reserve . . . Did not start and only saw action in a couple of plays at Dallas (10/18) because of a rib injury . . . Played in nine games (eight starts), and finished the year with 30 tackles, one interception (vs. Eagles, 11/11), two passes defensed and one forced fumble . . . Started the playoff contest at San Diego (1/2/93) and recorded five tackles and a sack. 1991: Had an injury-filled '91 season, when he missed eight regular season games and both playoff contests with a knee injury . . . Suffered the injury while pulling down his third interception in the season-opener vs. Atlanta (9/1) . . . Was hobbled by the injury the remainder of the year . . . Was named AFC Defensive Player of the Week (1) for his three-pick afternoon . . . Finished the year with a career low 18 tackles. 1990: Named to fourth straight Pro Bowl (third time in a row as a starter) . . . Was a consensus All-NFL pick . . . Had two interceptions and 13 pass deflections . . . Blocked what is believed to be an NFL-record four punts . . . NFL does not keep individual punt block records, but the old team record was five before the Chiefs got six last year and no single player had all five for his team . . . Had blocks in three straight games: Denver (9/17), Green Bay (9/23) and Cleveland (9/30) . . . Other block came against New England (12/2) . . . Cleveland block was returned by Kevin Ross for a touchdown . . . Named AFC Defensive Player of the Week (9) for interception, fumble recovery and two pass deflections in a key 9-7 win over L.A. Raiders (11/4) . . . Registered 58 tackles, his most since '86, and recorded a career-high three fumble recoveries . . . Moved into sixth place on Kansas City's all-time interception list. 1989: Had one of the best seasons of his distinguished pro career . . . Selected as a starter to the Pro Bowl for the second straight year . . . Was a first-team All-Pro pick by Associated Press, The Sporting News, Sports Illustrated, Pro Football Weekly and NEA . . . First-team All-AFC by UPI, Football News and Pro Football Weekly . . . Named the top AFC defensive back by the NFL Players' Association . . . Tied with fellow Pro Bowler Kevin Ross for team lead with four interceptions, his most since the '86 season . . . His 57 tackles were also the most since '86 . . . Also added three forced fumbles and one sack . . . Lead team in passes defensed for the fourth year in a row with 17 . . . Blocked sixth career punt vs. Oilers (11/26) which Jayice Pearson recovered for a TD in a 34-0 thrashing . . . Interceptions in '89 came off AFC's best quarterbacks: John Elway, Bernie Kosar and Dan Marino (twice) . . . Made his first interception of the season off Elway in season opener at Denver (9/10) and also added two stops . . . Collected second pick of season on final play of overtime to preserve tie at Cleveland (11/19); also made season-high eight tackles (one for a loss) and had three pass deflections . . . Had third interception of season vs. Miami (12/3) . . . Intercepted Marino and added three solo stops in season finale win over Miami (12/24) . . . Started all 16 games at left corner. 1988: Was voted to second straight Pro Bowl and first as a starter . . . Was first-team All-AFC by UPI, Pro Football Weekly and Football News and honorable mention All-NFL by AP . . . Led team in pass deflections for second straight year with 12 . . . Tied career low with one interception, getting the lone theft vs. Lions (10/23) . . . Played in 14 games with 12 starts; did not attend one game due to father's death and missed three starts with an ankle sprain . . . Also missed Pro Bowl with ankle injury . . . Contributed 45 tackles (32 solos), a fumble recovery and a blocked punt . . . Was named AFC Defensive Player of the Week vs. Bengals (11/13) after he blocked a punt for a safety, recovered a fumble to set up the game-winning field goal, deflected two passes and added four tackles . . . Block and fumble recovery took place in last 6:06 of game. 1987: Was selected to the AFC Pro Bowl squad for first time . . . Lone interception of season came on a fake punt in the season opener vs. San Diego (9/13) . . . Started all 12 non-strike contests at left cornerback, and finished the season with 43 tackles (34 solos), one fumble recovery and a team-high nine deflected passes . . . Deflected a punt at Chicago (11/1) which ended up traveling just 14 yards . . . Was a second-team All-AFC selection by UPI. 1986: Was equally sensational on defense and special teams . . . Voted the Chiefs Most Valuable Player for '86 by teammates . . . Defensively, he intercepted four passes, led unit in deflected passes and had two fumble recoveries . . . On special teams, he blocked or deflected a team-record four punts during the regular season and tackled another punter before the kick . . . Plus, he blocked a punt and recovered it for a touchdown in the playoff game vs. Jets (12/28) . . . Made a dramatic impact on several games, including the playoff-clinching win at Pittsburgh (12/21) in the finale, when he intercepted a pass to kill a late drive, recovered a fumble, and blocked a punt that was recovered in the end zone for a touchdown . . . In Week 9 come-from-behind win at San Diego (11/2), he forced turnovers on three consecutive Charger possessions in the fourth-quarter comeback . . . That included two interceptions, which was the fourth multiple-interception game of his career, and a forced fumble . . . Recorded 69 tackles for the season, including 61 unassisted stops . . . Didn't play vs. Cleveland (10/12) due to a strained quad muscle which had bothered him for several weeks . . . Blocked punts came vs. San Diego (10/19), both Denver games (11/16 & 12/7) and Pittsburgh, and each one either set up a touchdown or was recovered for a TD. 1985: A torrid season-ending surge gave him a share of the AFC interception title with eight, tying Colts Eugene Daniel . . . Was one behind NFL leader Everson Walls of Dallas . . . Six of his thefts came in final three games of season . . . Began flurry by picking off three passes vs. Atlanta (12/8), a personal best and one shy of tying team and NFL standard . . . A week later he intercepted two passes at Denver (12/14), then finished the season with one vs. San Diego (12/22) . . . Also had one interception in each of the first two games of the season . . . Compiled 65 solo tackles to rank third on team and 74 total stops which tied him for sixth . . . Also had 1½ sacks . . . Put together a masterful performance in a Thursday night game vs. Raiders (9/12), making a season-high eight solo tackles, one interception, one forced fumble, while recovering a Jim Plunkett fumble in the end zone for his first NFL touchdown and the Chiefs final score of a 36-20 win . . . Started all 16 games. 1984: Stepped forward as a leading performer on the Chiefs defense in his first year as a starter . . . Made four interceptions and recorded 69 tackles (61 solos) . . . His four thefts came in a five-week span . . . After starting the first 15 games, he missed the season finale after spraining his knee the previous week vs. Seattle (12/9). 1983: Spent most of his rookie year as the team's nickel back until winning the starting job in the season finale vs. Denver (12/18) . . . Made four interceptions and recorded 36 total tackles while playing in all 16 games . . . First NFL theft came off Jim Hart vs. St. Louis (10/2), then picked off two Plunkett passes in the first quarter the following week vs. the Raiders (10/9) . . . Final interception came at Seattle (11/27), which he returned a career-long 34 yards . . . On special teams, he contributed a team-leading 27 tackles and recovered a fumble on a punt return vs. Giants (10/16) that set up a Chiefs TD . . . Was the Chiefs third-round draft choice in '83.

College/Personal: Was a first-team All-Southwestern Athletic Conference selection his final two years at Grambling . . . Intercepted 11 passes in those two seasons, including a SWAC-leading seven as a junior . . . Attended DeSoto High School in Mansfield, Louisiana, where he was a two-year all-district defensive back . . . Won three letters each in football, basketball and track . . . Earned a degree in political science from Grambling and plans to study law . . . Is very active in the Kansas City-area community . . . Has been a spokesman for the Johnson Co. Substance Abuse Program, Chiefs Crime Prevention and Hugh O'Brien Youth Foundation and has worked with major-problem children at Genesis School, Missouri State Probation and Parole, and Rainbow Mental Health School . . . Also actively involved in YMCA, FCA, Muscular Dystrophy, Cerebral Palsy, United Way, Boy Scouts, March of Dimes and several other worthwhile endeavors . . . Hometown of Mansfield, Louisiana, held an "Albert Lewis Day" on May 11, 1990 . . . Hobbies include riding bikes, hunting and fishing . . . Full name: Albert Ray Lewis . . . Single.

How Acquired: Free Agent (1980)
College: Dartmouth
NFL Experience: 14
Birthdate: May 27, 1956
Birthplace: Munich, Germany
Residence: Fairway, Kansas

Pro Career: Has proved to be one of the best placekickers in football history . . . Up until the final game of the '92 season, he was the most accurate field goal kicker in NFL history . . . Is now listed second behind Miami's Pete Stoyanovich, who made his 100th field goal, the league minimum to qualify in the season's final game . . . Lowery has made 80.1% (306-382) of his field goals, compared to 80.8% (101-125) for Stoyanovich . . . Is also the second-most accurate PAT% kicker ever, making 449 of 453 for 99.1% (Tommy Davis, 99.4%) . . . Owns or shares three NFL records and 18 Chiefs standards . . . Is now third on the league's all-time field goals list with 306, trailing only Jan Stenerud (373) and George Blanda (335) . . . Is the NFL's seventh all-time leading scorer with 1,367 career points . . . Owns the league record for most 100-point seasons with 10 . . . Shares NFL mark for most field goals of 50 yards or more in a game with two, but he is the only player to accomplish this feat more than two times (he's done it on three occasions) . . . Is the outright owner of the following franchise records: most consecutive games played (188), points in a career (1,360) and season (139 in '90), 100-point seasons (10), PATs in a career (442), most consecutive PATs made (197), career PAT% (99.1%), field goals made in a career (306) and season (34 in '90), most consecutive field goals made (21), longest field goal (58 yards), career FG% (80.3%) and season FG% (91.9% in '90), 50+ yard field goals in a career (19), season (four) and game (two) . . . Has been voted to three Pro Bowls, following the '81, '90 and '92 seasons . . . has played in 196 games with the Chiefs, the second-most ever behind Jerrel Wilson (203) . . . Made 300th career field goal (36 yards) with :54 left to give Kansas City a 16-14 win over San Diego (11/8) . . . Moved into third place on the league's all-time field goals made list and seventh place on the all-time scoring list . . . Set a new Chiefs record by playing in 188 straight games (old record of 186 was held by Stenerud) . . . Drilled a 52-yard field goal at Houston (9/20) for his 19th career 50+ yard kick . . . Missed his first game ever when a groin injury kept him out of the Steelers game (10/25) . . . When punter Bryan Barker was injured at L.A. Raiders (12/6), Lowery was forced to punt in a game for the first time since high school . . . Fared well as an emergency punter in the game with four punts for a 35.3-yard gross average. 1991: Coming off another stellar campaign, making 25 of 30 (83.3%) field goal efforts and all 35 PAT tries . . . His five misses came from an average of 46.8 yards out, highest average in the AFC . . . Made 21 field goals in a row for the second straight season . . . Finished fourth in the AFC with 110 points, upping his league record for 100-point seasons to nine . . . His 83.3% ranked third in the AFC and fifth in the NFL . . . Moved into sixth place on the NFL's career field goals made list, bypassing Lou Groza, Jim Bakken and Fred Cox . . . In '91, he moved ahead of Stenerud to become the team's all-time leading scorer, while also taking over the team lead in career field goals made and PATs made . . . Punched in an 18-yard field goal to give the Chiefs a 20-17 overtime win over the Chargers. 1990: Had one of the finest seasons of his distinguished NFL career . . . Selected to second Pro Bowl (also went in '81) and was a consensus All-NFL selection . . . Led the NFL and set new Chiefs records for points (139), field goals made (34), field goal percentage (91.89%) and consecutive field goals made (21) . . . His 91.89% (34-37) is the fourth-highest in NFL history, behind 20-out-of-21 seasons (95.24%) by Mark Moseley and Eddie Murray (twice) . . . Established an NFL-record with his eighth 100-point season . . . The 34 field goals made tied Jim Turner for the second-most ever in one season; Ali Haji-Sheikh owns the NFL record with 35 . . . Made 28 or 29 field goals inside of 40 yards . . . Made four of five fourth-quarter field goals . . . Misses came from 52 yards (short), 32 yards (wide right) and 41 yards (wide right) . . . Was 37 of 38 on PAT attempts, with the miss coming from 30 yards out in Chicago (12/29) after a holding penalty . . . Named Kicker-of-the-Year by NFL Alumni . . . In playoff game at Miami (1/5/91), he made field goals of 27, 25, and 38 yards, then was about a yard short on a 52-yard try with 56 seconds left in the 17-16 Dolphins victory. 1989: Recorded his seventh 100-point season to tie Jan Stenerud's NFL record . . . Made 24 of 33 field goal tries for 72.7%, the seventh-highest percentage in the conference . . . Was 34 of 35 on PAT efforts . . . This lone PAT miss (vs. Miami, 12/3) broke a string of 197 in a row, which stands as a Chiefs record . . . Drilled 41-yarder with 1:31 remaining in the game at Miami (12/24), giving Kansas City a 27-24 season-ending victory . . . Became the 15th NFL player to score 1,000 points against San Diego (12/17) . . . Set NFL record, since broken, with 18th 50+ yard field goal with a 50-yard kick at Pittsburgh (10/29). 1988: Had another outstanding season, putting through 27 of 32 field goal tries for 84.3%, the second-highest accuracy mark in team history (he had a 88.9% in '85) . . . Also made all 23 of his PAT efforts . . . Only Buffalo's Scott Norwood (86.5%, 32-37) and Detroit's Eddie Murray (95.2%, 20-21) had better FG% . . . Had three 50+ yard field goals, tying Stenerud's league record of 17 . . . Won back-to-back games with last-minute field goals, nailing a 39-yarder at :02 giving the Chiefs a 31-28 win over Cincinnati (11/13) and hitting a 40-yarder at :46 to give Kansas City a 27-24 victory over Seattle (11/20) . . . Was named to Sports Illustrated's first team All-NFL. 1987: Enjoyed one of the finest seasons of his career, making 19 of 23 field goal tries and establishing a new NFL record . . . His 82.6% FG accuracy rate was the third-highest in the NFL in '87 . . . He became the first kicker in NFL history to kick two 50-or-more yard field goals in three games when he booted 52- and 54-yarders in a Thanksgiving Day win over Detroit (11/26) . . . Only Atlanta's Mick Luckhurst has ever kicked two 50+ yarders on two occasions and 10 players have accomplished the feat once . . . Hit a 33-yard field goal with :00 left on the clock at Cincinnati (12/6) to send the game into overtime. 1986: Ranked fifth in the AFC with 100 points, but his 19 field goals and 26 attempts were career-lows for a 16-game season . . . Clutch performer kicked two game-winning field goals during the year: at San Diego (11/2) he nailed a 37-yarder with seven seconds left for a dramatic 24-23 comeback victory; at Buffalo (9/28) he nailed a 46-yard game-winner with 1:07 left to give the Chiefs a 20-17 win . . . Missed first-ever kick from less than 30 yards when a 29-yarder was blocked at San Diego (11/2) . . . Was named second team All-AFC by UPI and honorable mention All-Pro by AP. 1985: Broke his own record for single-season completion percentage by making 24 of 27 field goal attempts for a 88.9 percentage (now the second-highest) . . . It ranks as the sixth-best performance in NFL history . . . Remarkable season won him the honor as placekicker on the All-NFL team, thanks to first team votes from AP and NEA . . . Also was named to the All-AFC second team by UPI . . . Was voted as first alternate to the AFC Pro Bowl team . . . Made 22 of 23 attempts inside the 50-yard line . . . Kicked nine field goals (9-9) and scored 35 points in the first two games alone, the best two-game start in KC history . . . Was 4-4 in a season-opening 47-27 win at New Orleans (9/8), including two 52-yarders that tied an NFL record (which he matched in '80 and '87 as well) for most field goals over 50 yards in a game . . . Four nights later vs. Raiders (9/12), he produced one of the best performance of his career by making all five FG tries in a 36-20 win . . . The five field goals were a personal high, tied a team record set by Stenerud and were just one shy of the league record for most FG's in a game with no misses . . . He had a 58-yarder in the game which tied his personal best as the fourth-longest in NFL history. 1984: Connected on 23 of 33 field goal attempts and was selected as the second alternate for the Pro Bowl . . . His 23 FG's ranked third in the AFC and tied for eighth in the NFL, his 33 FGA's were most in the AFC and tied for fourth in the NFL and his 104 points ranked fourth in the AFC and ninth in the NFL . . . Kicked three fourth-quarter field goals vs. Denver (12/2), including a 42-yard game-winner with 1:56 remaining in a 16-13 victory. 1983: Set the team record for field goal completion percentage for the second straight season (which he broke again in '85 and '90) by making 24 of 30 attempts for 80.0% . . . Only misses were from 52, 51, 48, 47, 43 and 42 yards out . . . Set a then personal best with 116 points, good enough for second in the AFC and sixth in the NFL that year . . . Boomed a 58-yarder at Washington (9/18) for a team record and third-longest in NFL annals at that time . . . Later that year, he kicked a 54-yarder vs. the Raiders (11/6) . . . Booted a 41-yarder in OT to give Chiefs a 13-10 win over Houston (10/23). 1982: His statistics from the nine-game season almost seemed to reflect a normal 16-game slate . . . Broke the Chiefs field goal accuracy record for the first time by converting 19 of 24 attempts for 79.2%, bettering Stenerud's '69 mark of 77.1% . . . He led the AFC in field goals made for the second straight year with 19, which finished second in the NFL next to Moseley's 20 . . . His 74 points were second in the conference and third in the NFL . . . Made 19 of 21 attempts inside the 50-yard line and was perfect (11-11) inside the 40 . . . Earned second team AFC honors from UPI. 1981: Capped a brilliant '81 season by being voted as the placekicker for the AFC Pro Bowl team . . . Proceeded to win the game by kicking a 23-yard field goal with three seconds remaining

. . . Connected on 26 of 36 attempts that year, including 25 of 29 inside the 50, while scoring 115 points . . . The 26 FG's were tops in the AFC and 115 points were good for second place . . . Selected to All-NFL team by NEA and named first team All-AFC by UPI. 1980: After beating out Stenerud, he quickly rebutted the skeptics with superb kicking . . . In the second game of the season vs. Seattle (9/14), he boomed a 57-yard field goal, which broke the club record of 55 yards set by Stenerud in '70 . . . Made good on 20 of 26 field goals, including 16 of 19 inside midfield . . . His four kicks of 50 yards or more tied for second in NFL history, one behind the all-time mark set by Denver's Fred Steinfort that year. Pre-Chiefs: Before winning a spot with the Chiefs, he tried unsuccessfully with eight other NFL teams . . . After not being drafted out of Dartmouth, he had a tryout with the N.Y. Jets in '78, but was cut during training camp . . . He then signed with New England during mid-season and appeared in two games, connecting on all seven PAT's and missing his only FG attempt before being released . . . CHRISTIAN OKOYE • 35
Running Back Ht: 6-1 Wt: 260

How Acquired: Draft (No. 2 - 1987)
College: Azusa Pacific
NFL Experience: 7
Birthdate: August 16, 1961
Birthplace: Enugu, Nigeria
Residence: Alta Loria, California

Pro Career: The Chiefs all-time leading rusher begins his seventh season in Kansas City red and gold . . . Devastatingly powerful and exceptionally fast running back climbed to the top of all the Chiefs important career rushing lists in '92 . . . Is now the team's all-time rushing yardage leader with 4,897, topping Ed Podolak's old mark of 4,451 . . . Tops the club's all-time rushing attempts list with 1,246, eclipsing Podolak's former record of 1,158 . . . Tallied his 40th career rushing touchdown last year, snapping the old franchise record of 39, which was held by Abner Haynes . . . Has a team-record 14 career 100-yard games . . . Also holds Kansas City single-season records for most rushing attempts (370 in '89), rushing yards (1,480 in '89), 100-yard games (eight) and consecutive 100-yard games (three) . . . Has led the club in rushing four of six previous seasons . . . Is the only player in Chiefs history with two 1,000-yard seasons . . . Combines sprinter's speed with a lineman's strength . . . Has been voted to the Pro Bowl twice, following the '89 and '91 seasons . . . Has started 65 of the 79 games he's played with the club . . . His 34 rushing touchdowns the past four years are the third-most in the NFL (Barry Sanders-52 & Emmitt Smith-41); his 3,764 yards in that span are the fifth-most (Sanders-5,570, Thurman Thomas-5,435, Smith-4,213 & Ernest Byner-3,845); and his 984 rushing attempts are the third-most in the league (Sanders-1,170 & Thomas-1,169) . . . Is the only Chief to lead the NFL in rushing with his 1,480 yards in '89 . . . His success in the NFL is remarkable considering the fact he never played American football until '84 and saw the game for the first time on television a year earlier . . . A native of Enugu, Nigeria, he first played football at tiny Azusa Pacific University in Azusa, California . . . Has 42 career catches for 294 yards . . . Has made just 10 receptions the past four years and 18 the past five; he hauled in 24 passes as a rookie . . . Sure-handed ball carrier has fumbled just 27 times on 1,288 attempts, a superb average of one mishandle ever 47.4 chances; that compares favorably to some NFL greats: Jim Brown (1 every 46.7), Tony Dorsett (37.1), Franco Harris (36.3) and Gale Sayers (36.4). 1992: Became the team's all-time leading rusher in the second game of the year vs. Seattle (9/13) . . . Played in 15 games with a career-low five starts . . . Was the team's second-leading rusher with 448 yards and led the club with six touchdowns . . . His yardage total was a career low . . . Best output of the year came in a rain storm vs. New England (12/13), when he had 27 carries for 86 yards and one touchdown . . . Had 73 yards on 11 totes vs. Steelers (10/25) . . . Had a pair of touchdowns (two and three yards) vs. Washington (11/8) . . . '92 was his first season without at least one 100-yard outing . . . Missed the season opener after at late contract signing . . . Did not play in the playoff game. 1991: Became the first Chief to record two 1,000-yard rushing seasons with 1,031 in '91 . . . Earned second trip to the Pro Bowl (but missed game with a knee injury) . . . Named second team All-NFL by NEA and first team All-AFC by Pro Football Weekly and Football News . . . Finished third in the AFC and eighth in the NFL in rushing . . . His nine rushing touchdowns ranked second in the conference and tied for seventh in the league . . . Has lead the team in touchdowns three years in a row . . . Ranked 10th in the AFC with 1,065 total yards from scrimmage . . . Missed 2½ games with a sprained knee . . . Started 12 of the 14 games he played in . . . Was named AFC Offensive Player of the Month in October: 84 carries, 372 yards and five touchdowns with back-to-back century efforts vs. Buffalo, 10/7 (29-122-2) and Miami, 10/13 (23-152-2) . . . Other '91 100-yard game, giving him a Chiefs record 14, was a 143-yard outburst in the season opener vs. Atlanta (9/1) . . . Had a 48-yard run in the Falcons win, his longest since '89 . . . Rushed for

96 yards at L.A. Rams (11/10), 83 vs. Denver (11/17), 79 vs. Seattle (9/22) and 75 at Houston (9/16) . . . Averaged 73.6 yards per game and a career-high 4.6 yards per carry . . . His 1,031 yards are fifth-most ever by a Chief in a single-season . . . His 225 carries in '91 also rank fifth in club history . . . Was inactive with a knee injury for late games vs. San Diego (12/8) and San Francisco (12/14) . . . Knee limited his playoff activity: one carry for two yards vs. L.A. Raiders (12/28) and no carries at Buffalo (1/5/92). 1990: Finished fourth NFL season with 805 rushing yards to rank ninth in the AFC . . . His seven touchdowns led the team for the second straight year . . . Started the first 13 games of the season, then suffered a shoulder subluxation, causing him to miss the next two games . . . Played but did not start in season finale and Miami playoff game . . . Suffered shoulder injury vs. Denver (12/9) . . . Had one century effort, registering 122 yards on 23 carries with one touchdown at Green Bay (9/23) . . . Had four other games with at least 80 rushing yards, including 83 yards on 13 carries in first-round playoff loss to Miami (1/5/91) . . . In the Chiefs final drive in that game, he had a 26-yard gallop and then a 12-yard run that took the team to the Miami 14-yard line, but was nullified by a holding penalty; Chiefs ended up kicking a 52-yard field goal (from the Miami 34) which fell short in 17-16 loss . . . Had 92 yards and a score on 28 totes vs. Minnesota (9/9) and 91 yards and two touchdowns on 21 carries vs. Detroit (10/14). 1989: Consensus All-Pro choice led NFL and set new Chiefs single-season record with 1,480 rushing yards; edged out Lions Barry Sanders (1,470) for NFL crown . . . Selected to start first Pro Bowl . . . Named Chiefs Most Valuable Player by his teammates . . . Selected AFC Player of the Year by the Washington, D.C. Touchdown Club and by the NFL Players' Association . . . Was a first team All-Pro selection by AP, The Sporting News, Pro Football Weekly and NEA . . . Was a first team All-AFC pick by UPI, Pro Football Weekly and Football News . . . Named Running Back of the Year by the NFL Alumni . . . Broke or tied seven Chiefs records . . . Topped league and set club record for rushing attempts in a season with 370 (old Chiefs record was 236 by Mike Garrett in '67) . . . His 370 carries are the 12th-most ever by an NFL back in an season . . . Became first Chiefs 1,000-yard rusher since Joe Delaney in '81 . . . His 12 rushing touchdowns are the second-most in team history to Abner Haynes' 13 . . . Before '89 season Woody Green owned team record for carries in a game with 30, but Okoye had five games with at least 30 carries last season, including team-record 38 at Green Bay (12/10) . . . Tied Delaney's team record with three straight 100-yard games on two occasions in '89 . . . His '89 numbers are especially impressive considering he missed all of preseason with a pinched nerve in his neck and saw extensive action in just 14 games; carried only five times in season opener at Denver (9/10) and was sidelined at home vs. Denver (11/12) with a thigh bruise . . . Had first 100-yard effort of season at San Diego (9/24) with 112 yards (then a career high) on 16 carries . . . Broke off a career-long 59-yard run in the game . . . Became the first Chief to have back-to-back century games since '81 (Delaney) with 101 yards on 25 totes in loss to Cincinnati (10/1) . . . Enjoyed one of the finest games of his career as he helped Chiefs win for the first time in Seattle (10/8) since '81 with then-career-bests of 156 yards on 30 carries . . . Had an incredible 13-yard touchdown run in which he bulled his way over and past seven would-be tacklers . . . His three straight 100-yard games tied Delaney's '81 team standard . . . Had best outing of pro career with a then-team-record 33 carries for a personal-best 170 yards and two touchdowns vs. Dallas (10/22) . . . His 170 yards are the fourth-most ever by a Kansas City back . . . Had fifth 100-yard outing of the year at Pittsburgh (10/29) with 101 yards on 34 carries . . . Had his team-record sixth 100-yard game in seven weeks with 126 yards on a new-team-record 37 carries vs. Seattle (11/5) . . . Became the fifth Chiefs player (first since '81) to rush for 1,000 yards in a season in 34-0 win over Oilers (11/26) . . . Had 67 yards on 21 carries and a 17-yard touchdown run in the shutout . . . Broke Delaney's team record for rushing yardage in a season (1,121 in '81) in victory over Miami (12/3) . . . Powered his way to 148 yards on 32 carries . . . Broke his own team record by rushing 38 times at Green Bay (12/10) for 131 yards in a big Chiefs victory. 1988: Battled injuries in second NFL season, played in just nine games . . . Still finished year as team's leading rusher with 473 yards and three touchdowns . . . Started season with a four-game stay on injured reserve with a broken right thumb; suffered injury in preseason opener and underwent surgery on it August 7 . . . Saw first action of season at N.Y. Jets (10/2), recording 51 yards on 12 totes . . . Injured back in that outing and did not play the following week at Houston (10/9) . . . Started the next eight weeks and really came on from Game 11 to Game 14 . . . In that four-game stretch he galloped for 280 yards and three scores while averaging 4.8 yards per run . . . Had second career 100-yard day with 102 yards vs. Cincinnati (11/13); also had a touchdown and a then-career-long 48-yard run in the contest . . . Broke his right hand escorting James Saxon into the end zone on game-winning touchdown vs. N.Y. Jets (12/4) . . . Missed final two games and was placed on injured reserve for second time on December 14. 1987: Stepped in as club's starting fullback on first day of training camp and by season's end led all NFL rookie runners with 660 yards . . . Carried the ball 157 times and scored three rushing touchdowns . . . Was also Kansas City's third-leading receiver (first among RB's) with 24 catches for 169 yards . . . Was voted team's Mack Lee Hill Award, which annually goes to the Chiefs top rookie, and was named to the Pro Football Writers' all-rookie team . . . Had a sensational NFL debut by rushing for 105 yards on 21 carries in the season opener vs. San Diego (9/13), marking the first time a Chiefs rookie gained 100 yards in his first NFL game . . . Also broke off a 43-yard touchdown run in the opener, his longest run of the year . . . Ran for 93 yards, including 83 in the first half, at Chicago (11/1), the best rushing day against the Bears in '87 . . . Had best receiving day of career at San Diego (10/25) when he caught four passes for 45 yards, including a career-long 22-yarder . . . Played with a painful shoulder injury most of his rookie campaign . . . Fumbled just five times in 157 carries, a ratio of on every 31.4 carries . . . Chiefs traded up 11 spots in the '87 draft's second round, swapping second-round positions and giving the Oilers a fourth-round pick, to take him (Oilers used second-round pick on LB Walter Johnson and fourth-rounder on LB Mark Dusbabek) . . . Was eighth running back selected in '87 behind Alonzo Highsmith, Brent Fullwood, D.J. Dozier, Paul Palmer, Roger Vick, Terrence Flagler and Kenny Flowers.

College/Personal: A Nigerian-born athlete who came to the United States in the fall of '82 to compete for Azusa Pacific's national championship track and field program . . . Went to school at Azusa Pacific on advise from a friend and sprinter from Enugu, Innocent Egbunike . . . Chose to play football when he wasn't selected for the Nigerian Olympic team in '84 . . . Has been the Chiefs interception leader once ('90) and tied for the interception crown twice ('87 and '89) . . . Has four games with two interceptions . . . Has not been tested much the past two seasons (just two interceptions) . . . Big-play producer has scored five touchdowns in four different ways: two interception returns, fumble return, blocked field goal return and blocked punt return . . . Had a 99-yard interception return in '92, which is the third-longest in Kansas City history . . . Has missed just five games in his nine previous seasons, starting 129 of 136 appearances . . . His ferocious hits have become a trademark . . . Former high school wrestler uses leverage to gain advantage on taller receivers and ball carriers . . . Career log reads 28 interceptions, 724 tackles (549 solos), 11 fumble recoveries, 13 forced fumbles, 2½ sacks and five touchdowns . . . Has 21 tackles and a forced fumble in five playoff contests (all starts). 1992: Started all 16 games for the first time since '86 . . . Ended the year with 58 tackles (44 solos), the eighth-most on the squad, one interception, 11 pass deflections, second-most on team, two fumble recoveries and one forced fumble . . . Was rarely tested by opposing quarterbacks, seeing few balls thrown his way . . . Made the most of his only pick, returning it 99 yards for a touchdown in the season opener at San Diego (9/6) . . . It tied for the third-longest interception return in franchise history . . . Had at least five tackles in seven games . . . Had two tackles and a forced fumble in playoffs vs. San Diego (1/2/93) . . . Named to the prestigious All-Madden Team. 1991: Was a first alternate for the Pro Bowl after representing the AFC in in '89-90 . . . Was hampered by a sprained ankle during the middle of the season, but still played in 14 games with 13 starts . . . His 68 total tackles ranked ninth on the team, while 54 solo stops placed him fifth on the squad . . . Recorded lone interception of the season at Cleveland (11/24) . . . Was rarely tested by opposing quarterbacks in '91 . . . Had at least four tackles in 12 of 13 starts and made at least five tackles in seven outings . . . Was inactive for two games with the ankle injury . . . Had three tackles in the playoff win over the Raiders (12/28) and seven (all solos) in the postseason loss at Buffalo (1/5/92). 1990: Represented AFC in Pro Bowl for the second consecutive year . . . Led Chiefs in both interceptions with five and pass deflections with 14 . . . Was second among defensive backs with 64 tackles, the lowest non-strike total of his career . . . Played a role in 11 turnovers: five interceptions, three fumble recoveries and three forced fumbles . . . Scored fourth career touchdown on a four-yard return of a blocked punt by Albert Lewis vs. Cleveland (9/30) . . . Was named AFC Defensive Player of the Week (3) when he had a hand in three turnovers in 17-3 victory at Green Bay (9/23); had an interception (off Don Majkowski), fumble recovery and forced fumble on the Kansas City one-yard line as the Packers were about to score . . . Had fourth two-interception game of career, picking off Dave Krieg twice at Seattle (10/21) . . . Intercepted Billy Joe Tolliver and recovered a fumble in win over Chargers (11/18) . . . Had an interception off John Elway in triumph over Denver (12/9) . . . Had five solo tackles in Miami playoff game (1/5/91) . . . Missed a start vs. Seattle (11/11) with a groin injury, but played in the game. 1989: Was selected to play in his first Pro Bowl, joining fellow Chiefs corner Lewis . . . Tied for team theft lead with four, the most he's had since '86 when he also recorded four . . . All-AFC first team selection by Football News and a second-team All-AFC pick by UPI . . . Tied with Derrick Thomas for fifth on the team with 75 total tackles but led the club with 57 solo stops . . . Also added one forced fumble and 13 pass deflections (second on team to Lewis) . . . Missed one game (Steelers, 10/29) and parts of three others with a sore ankle . . . Collected first interception of season in Week 2 win over Raiders (9/17) . . . Picked off Boomer Esiason for second interception of season and added five solo stops vs. Cincinnati (10/1) . . . Made third interception of season at Raiders (10/15) and contributed six tackles; he has seven career interceptions off Raiders quarterbacks . . . Missed entire second half of Dallas game (10/22) with a sprained ankle; had two solo stops and forced fumble before departure . . . Was on inactive list vs. Steelers (10/29)

with sprained ankle . . . Made seven tackles and had fourth interception of season against San Diego (12/17). 1988: Turned in another solid season, recording 99 tackles, one interception, three pass deflections and one forced fumble . . . His 99 tackles ranked third on the team and were second-most of career (had 111 in '85) . . . His one interception marked a career low . . . Missed one game (vs. Bengals, 11/13) and one start (vs. Seahawks, 11/20) with a right shoulder separation . . . Had two double-digit tackle outings and at least eight stops on seven occasions . . . Made 10 tackles (six solos) at Seattle (9/11) and recorded a season-high 13 stops (10 solos) at N.Y. Jets (10/2) . . . Made lone interception, along with eight tackles, at Pittsburgh (11/27). 1987: His three thefts gave him a share of the Chiefs interception crown (Cherry also had three) . . . Recorded 58 tackles, tying Lloyd Burruss for first among defensive backs and fourth on team . . . Finished third on club with seven deflected passes while forcing one fumble and making one sack . . . Had his third career two-interception game in win over Raiders (12/13) while also adding 10 tackles . . . Second interception of game came with 1:00 remaining in fourth quarter and with Chiefs clinging to 16-10 lead . . . His only other theft came against Denver (10/18) in the final replacement game . . . Scored his third career touchdown on a 65-yard return of a blocked field goal by Bill Maas at Cincinnati (12/6) which gave Kansas City a 24-20 lead in an overtime loss . . . Missed first game of pro career at Detroit (11/26) with a hip injury . . . Also missed a start at Pittsburgh (11/8) with same ailment . . . Played in 12 games with 11 starts. 1986: Produced another all-around performance that included four interceptions, a team-leading three fumble recoveries and 93 tackles . . . His special teams contributions included deflecting a punt, tackling a punter before the kick, returning a fumbled kickoff 21 yards for a touchdown in a 42-41 win over San Diego (10-19) and 16 special teams tackles . . . Tied a career best by making two interceptions at Raiders (12/14) in a key 20-17 win, including a game-clincher in the final two minutes . . . His 93 tackles led NFL cornerbacks, ranking fourth on the team, and his 76 solo stops were second on the squad . . . Started all 16 games and the playoff contest. 1985: All three of his '85 interceptions came in the first three games, including the first double-theft effort of his pro career in a season-opening romp at New Orleans (9/8) . . . Finished second to Cherry in tackles with a career-most 111, including 81 unassisted stops . . . Had at least three tackles in every game and recorded three games of 10-or-more tackles. 1984: Put together one of the most incredible rookie success stories in franchise history . . . Showed his competitive nature from the start of training camp and earned the starting right CB job by the regular season opener . . . Went on to make six interceptions, still a career high, and 98 tackles . . . Had a rocky beginning, having several long plays made against him by Pittsburgh wide receivers in the opener (9/2) . . . Proved his determination a week later by turning in a sterling performance at Cincinnati (9/9), making 10 tackles, forcing a fumble to set up a field goal and recovering a fumble deep in Kansas City territory in the final minute to preserve a 27-22 Chiefs win . . . From then on, he was a key performer in a vastly-improved defense and was voted winner of the Mack Lee Hill Award (top Chiefs rookie honor) . . . His six interceptions tied him for third in Kansas City history for thefts by a rookie (Bobby Hunt, eight in '62, Eric Harris, seven in '80 and David Webster, six in '60) . . . Ranked second to Cherry (seven) for team lead and tied for fifth in AFC and 11th in NFL . . . Returned his first interception 71 yards for a touchdown in the home opener against Raiders (9/16) . . . How Acquired: Draft (No. 1 - 1989)
College: Alabama
NFL Experience: 5
Birthdate: January 1, 1967
Birthplace: Miami, Florida
Residence: Independence, Missouri

Pro Career: In just four seasons, he has developed into the most feared pass rusher in the NFL . . . Regarded by many to be the best linebacker in the NFL and could evolve into the league's most dominant defensive player . . . Has started the past four Pro Bowls as the AFC's top vote-getter at OLB each year . . . Now the club's second all-time sacker with 58 (Art Still, 72½) . . . Nobody has reached the quarterback more since he arrived in the NFL in '89; his 58 sacks lead all NFL players from '89-92 . . . Got his 50th sack vs. Dallas (10/18/92), reaching that milestone in his 54th NFL game, quicker than all but two other players in league history (Reggie White-40 & Mark Gastineau-43) . . . Has been nearly unstoppable the past three seasons, racking up a league-high 48 sacks, 18 forced fumbles and nine fumble recoveries, including two for touchdowns . . . Has three career games with four or more sacks, seven with three or more, and 12 with two-plus sacks . . . Has perfected the art of stripping the ball as evidenced by his 21 career forced fumbles . . . Is the NFL record holder for most sacks in a game with seven vs. Seattle (11/11/90), breaking the old record of six by San Francisco's Fred Dean (11/13/83) . . . In '91, he became the first Chief to lead the NFL in sacks with 20 . . . His 20 sacks in '90 set a team record and are the fifth-highest total in league history . . . His 58 sacks have accounted for 470½ yards in losses . . . Has made 284 career tackles, including 217 solo stops . . . 39½ of his 58 career sacks have come at Arrowhead, and all but 8½ of his sacks have come on artificial turf . . . By the time you get up in the morning, he's already run five miles. Two of them in soft sand.

He's an athlete. He's been one since he was nine.

He trains six hours a day. Seven days a week. Three hundred and sixty four days a year.

(He always takes his birthday off. Whether he needs to or not.)

And if you were to ask him if he believed in tenacity, resolve, and determination, he'd probably just smile and tell you he believes in a lot of hard work. And a little luck.

Yes, it's athletes like him that make us proud to sponsor events like these.

We're content to just be in the shadows of such excellence.

CHIEFS HISTORY

1959 — Lamar Hunt established and organized the American Football League with six original cities — Dallas, New York, Houston, Denver, Los Angeles and Minneapolis (Buffalo and Boston were added and Oakland replaced Minneapolis). "Before there was a player, coach or general manager in the league, there was Lamar Hunt," said Boston's Billy Sullivan. "Hunt was the cornerstone, the integrity of the league. Without him, there would have been no AFL." An unknown assistant at Miami (Florida), Hank Stram, was hired by Hunt to coach the club.

1960 — For their inaugural season in the Cotton Bowl, the Texans had a strong home-state identity with quarterback Cotton Davidson (Baylor), fullback Jack Spikes (Texas Christian) and running back Abner Haynes (North Texas State). Haynes led the league in rushing with 875 yards and touchdowns with nine. The Texans had a flashy, high scoring club, and only three close losses kept them from challenging for the division title. The Texans averaged 24,500 for their home games, the highest average in the league.

1961 — The Texans and the NFL's Dallas Cowboys both drafted E.J. Holub, described by many scouts as "the best football player in America." Holub decided to play for the Texans, joining three future Chiefs Hall of Famers – Jerry Mays, Fred Arbanas and Jim Tyrer.

1962 — Stram brought in quarterback Len Dawson, who spent six uneventful years in the NFL, to quarterback the club. Another key addition was Kansas running back Curtis McClinton. Haynes enjoyed his finest season with 1,049 yards and an AFL-high 13 touchdowns. The Texans clinched the Western Division championship in November and finished with an 11-3 record. AFL writers voted Dawson, who threw 29 touchdown passes, player of the year, and Stram coach of the year. Dallas won the AFL Championship on December 23 when Tommy Brooker connected on a 25-yard field goal during the second overtime of the title game, giving the Texans a 20-17 victory over the Houston Oilers.

1963 — On May 14, Hunt announced he was moving the franchise to Kansas City and renaming it the Chiefs. H. Roe Bartle, Kansas City's mayor nicknamed "Chief," promised to enlarge Municipal Stadium and guaranteed Hunt three times as many season ticket sales as the Texans had in Dallas. Rookie Stone Johnson suffered a fatal injury in a preseason game and his jersey number 33 was subsequently retired. Kansas City opened the regular season with a 59-7 victory over Denver, but managed just one win and two ties in its next nine games. Three highly-touted rookies, Buck Buchanan, Ed Budde and Bobby Bell, became starters on their way to a combined 526 games with the team.

1964 — The Chiefs struggled to a 7-7 record as many of the team's best players, including Curtis McClinton, E.J. Holub, Fred Arbanas and Johnny Robinson, missed several games with injuries. An average of just 18,126 fans attended each home game, prompting discussion at the AFL owners' meeting about the Chiefs future in Kansas City.

1965 — The Chiefs made Kansas star Gale Sayers their first-round draft pick, but lost him in a bidding war with the Chicago Bears. The Chiefs were able to nab wide receiver Otis Taylor from Prairie View, while Mack Lee Hill, a virtually unknown free agent running back, muscled his way into the starting lineup. In a relatively routine knee surgery late in the season, Hill died on the operating table. The club finished with a 7-5-2 record with three losses by a field goal or less.

1966 — The Chiefs signed Heisman Trophy winner Mike Garrett from USC, even though he was drafted by his hometown Los Angeles Rams of the NFL. On August 23, the Chiefs and Chicago Bears played a preseason game in the first contest between AFL and NFL teams. The Chiefs throttled the Bears, 66-24, at Municipal Stadium. A crowd of 43,885, the largest ever to witness a sports event in Kansas City, turned out for the home opener against the defending AFL champion Buffalo Bills. The Chiefs dropped a 29-14 decision to the Bills, but, after the contest, Stram and Buffalo head coach Joe Collier negotiated a trade in the middle of the field. Kansas City got kicker Mike Mercer for a fifth-round pick, solidifying one of the few weaknesses on the squad. Garrett earned AFL Rookie of the Year honors, rushing for 801 yards with a lofty 5.5 yards-per-carry average. Dawson led the league in passing as the Chiefs finished three games in front of Oakland for the Western Division title.

1967 — Using a dazzling I-formation offense and a smothering defense, the Chiefs dominated the Bills in Buffalo, 31-7, on New Year's Day to win the franchise's second AFL crown and a place in the first AFL-NFL World Championship Game, later renamed Super Bowl I. On January 15 at the Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum, the Chiefs met Vince Lombardi's powerful Green Bay Packers. The Chiefs played the Packers close for a half, trailing 14-10, but Green Bay took control in the final two quarters, winning the game by a score of 35-10. The Chiefs looked to the draft to strengthen their defense and found a pair of linebacking gems in Willie Lanier from Morgan State and Jim Lynch from Notre Dame. The club's special teams also got a boost with the addition of kicker Jan Stenerud and return man Noland (Super Gnat) Smith. Interest in the team skyrocketed, forcing an increase in seating capacity at Municipal Stadium from 40,000 to 47,000. Later in the year, Jackson County voters approved a $43 million bond issue for construction of a sports complex. Injuries again hit the club hard as the Chiefs clawed their way to a 9-5 record.

1968 — Dawson led the AFL in passing for the fourth time as the Chiefs finished the year with a 12-2 record and tie with the Raiders for the Western Division championship. In the league's title game, Oakland easily defeated Kansas City, 41-6, to advance to the AFL Championship Game against the New York Jets.

1969 — The Chiefs opened the season with impressive wins over San Diego and Boston, but lost Dawson with a knee injury. The next week, backup Jacky Lee went down with a broken ankle, leaving the team's most crucial position in the hands of two-year pro Mike Livingston, who engineered a seven-game win streak. Two months into the campaign, Dawson returned, helping the Chiefs to an 11-3 record, good for second in the division behind Oakland, who was 12-1-1. In the first round of the playoffs, Kansas City rode its dominating defense to upend Super Bowl champion New York Jets, 13-6, while Oakland pounded Houston, 56-7.

1970 — On January 4, the Chiefs defeated the Raiders, 17-7, to capture the AFL crown. It was the final game in AFL history, as the Chiefs became the league's only three-time champions. The biggest moment in Kansas City sports history came to a peak as the Chiefs became World Champions by turning back the Minnesota Vikings, by a score of 23-7, in Super Bowl IV. The Chiefs used the game as a crusade for the America Football League, and wore patches on their jerseys saying "AFL-10," which referred to the league's 10-year existence. The following season would see the AFL merge with the NFL. Oddsmakers established the Vikings as two-touchdown favorites, yet the Chiefs used three Stenerud field goals and a Garrett touchdown run to take a 16-0 halftime lead. A dynamic 46-yard touchdown pass from Dawson to Taylor in the third quarter sealed the victory. Dawson was named the game's Most Valuable Player. Despite injuries to key players and the trade of Garrett to the Chargers, the Chiefs finished the year with a 7-3-2 record, but did not qualify for the playoffs.

1971 — Taylor led the NFL in receiving yards with 1,110 and Ed Podolak became the team's top rusher. The linebacking trio of Lanier, Bell and Lynch was the league's best. In the season's next-to-last game with the Raiders, a late field goal by Stenerud gave the Chiefs a 16-14 victory and a Western Division title. The team finished with a 10-3-1 mark, one-and-a-half games ahead of Oakland. Kansas City and Miami hooked up for one of pro football's most memorable games on Christmas Day in the first round of the playoffs. The Eastern Division champion Dolphins won a dramatic double-overtime thriller, 27-24, in the longest game in NFL history. Podolak accounted for an incredible 350 yards on rushes, receptions and returns. It would be the last game played in Municipal Stadium.

1972 — Chiefs founder Lamar Hunt became the first AFL figure to be inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame on July 29 in Canton, Ohio. All pro-safety Johnny Robinson retires and Dawson ends speculation about his retirement by signing a two-year contract. The Chiefs open play in Arrowhead Stadium, one of the most magnificient facilities in pro sports. The largest crowd in Chiefs history, 82,094, watched the home team defeat the Raiders, 27-14, on November 5. The Chiefs got off to a 5-3 start, then lost three straight, and ended the year with an 8-6 record and out of playoff contention.

1973 — The defense remained solid but the offense struggled as Dawson was hurt for much of the season. Livingston led the club into first place in late November, but a pair of losses and a tie, gave the team its second straight second-place finish.

1974 — The Chiefs age was beginning to show. Several of the club's key players were entering the twilight of their careers: Dawson was 39, Tyrer was 35, Bell, Buchanan and Budde were 34, Hill was 33, and Taylor was 32. The result was the team's first losing season in 11 years. One of the year's few bright spots in the 5-9 season was Emmitt Thomas' league-leading 12 interceptions. Bell, and eight-time all-pro, concluded his playing career.

1975 — Paul Wiggin, an assistant coach with the San Francisco 49ers, replaced Stram as the team's head coach, and directed the Chiefs to four wins in his first five games. The high point of the season was a 34-31 upset of the Dallas Cowboys on Monday Night Football. Injuries crippled the team, leading to a second straight 5-9 finish. Dawson, the top passer in Chiefs history, announced his retirement after 14 memorable seasons with the franchise. After eight all-pro seasons, Buchanan also finished his last year of play.

1976 — After lingering in Dawson's shadow for eight seasons, Livingston was firmly entrenched as the team's starting quarterback. Even though he played well, the Chiefs still ended the year with their third consecutive 5-9 record.

1977 — The Chiefs suffered their worst season ever, winning just twice. Tom Bettis replaced Wiggin at midseason as the team's head coach, but was able to win just once in seven tries. The heart and soul of the Chiefs defense departed when roommates Lanier and Lynch, a pair of 11-year veterans, retired after the season's end.

1978 — Marv Levy, the former head coach of the Canadian Football League's Montreal Alouettes, was named head coach. His first four draft picks were defensive players, including standouts defensive end Art Still of Kentucky and Gary Spani of Kansas State. Levy installed the Wing-T as his offense. They had the second-most productive ground game in the league and a record five different runners had 100-yard games, including Tony Reed, the team's first 1,000-yard back in 11 years. The team showed signs of improvement, and ended their first 16-game regular season with a 4-12 mark.

1979 — With the second overall pick in the draft, the team landed Colorado State defensive end Mike Bell, a pass rush specialist and perfect complement for Still. Clemson quarterback Steve Fuller was also chosen in the first round by the Chiefs, and by midseason, he had replaced Livingston. With Fuller at the helm, the Chiefs improved from a 1-3 start to finish 7-9.

1980 — In a then-controversial move, the Chiefs released Stenerud, the club's all-time leading scorer, in favor of journeyman Nick Lowery, who had been cut 11 times himself by eight different teams. Despite injuries to key players, the Chiefs made steady improvement. The team came back from an 0-4 start to finish 8-8. The defense came of age with Still, Spani, safety Gary Barbaro and cornerback Gary Green playing major roles. After Fuller was sidelined with a knee injury late in the season, little-known Bill Kenney took over and led the club to two victories in the final three weeks.

1981 — Kenney remained at quarterback and directed the Chiefs to a 6-2 start, including a 37-33 win over the defending Super Bowl champion Steelers in Pittsburgh. The Chiefs were poised to make the playoffs for the first time in 10 years before dropping three straight games in December. A season-ending victory over the Vikings guaranteed the Chiefs their first winning record since 1973. Rookie running back Joe Delaney, a second-round pick from Northwest Louisiana rushed for a then club-record 1,121 yards.

1982 — The Chiefs split their first two games of the year before the players' strike began. The walkout would not be settled until mid-November, and the Chiefs dropped the first four games following the strike's end. Victories in two of the season's final three games left the club with a 3-6 record.

1983 — Tragedy struck the club on June 29, when Delaney, the team's young star running back, drowned trying to save the lives of three youngsters in Monroe, Louisiana. The next day, linebacker Bobby Bell became the first Chiefs player to be inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame in Canton. John Mackovic, in his first season as the club's head coach, had trouble finding a suitable replacement for Delaney as the running game suffered. Kenney was coming of age, throwing for 4,348 yards, a Chiefs record and then the fourth-highest total in NFL history. His primary target was wide receiver Carlos Carson, who hauled in 80 passes for 1,351 yards. Despite the team's high-flying offense, the final result was a 6-10 finish.

1984 — The Chiefs used their two first-round draft picks to bolster their lines, picking Pitt All-America Bill Maas then Iowa's huge tackle John Alt. Maas had an immediate impact and was named NFL Defensive Rookie of the Year. Kenney suffered a broken thumb during the preseason and was sidelined until the season's seventh week. Todd Blackledge, a first-round pick the previous season, opened the first six contests and had the club 3-3. Inconsistency the rest of the season saw the team conclude the year with an 8-8 mark.

1985 — The Chiefs got off to a flying start, winning three of their first four games. One of the wins, a 28-7 drubbing of the Seattle Seahawks on September 29, saw free safety Deron Cherry tie an NFL record with four interceptions. That would be one of the few remaining bright spots in a 6-10 season.

1986 — Linebacker Willie Lanier was enshrined in the Pro Football Hall of Fame on August 2. The pieces started coming together for Mackovic, who directed the club to a 7-3 record 10 weeks into the season. The club's defense and special teams were especially effective. Three straight losses in November put the Chiefs playoff chances in jeopardy, though. A 37-0 win over the Broncos at Arrowhead and the team's first ever win at L.A. Memorial Coliseum, a 20-17 squeaker over the Raiders, put the 9-6 Chiefs in position to reach the playoffs. A December 21 date in Pittsburgh was all that stood in their way. Despite being outgained 515 yards to 171, the Chiefs were able to notch a 24-19 victory as all of the team's points came from the special teams. That earned the club an AFC Wild Card berth, the club's first playoff appearance in 15 years. On December 28 at Giants Stadium, the Jets defeated the upstart Chiefs, 35-15.

1987 — Quarterback Len Dawson was inducted into the Pro Fooball Hall of Fame on August 8 in Canton, just a few miles from his hometown of Alliance, Ohio. Special teams coordinator Frank Gansz was promoted to head coach, and he quickly used the draft to solve the Chiefs running woes by selecting nimble Paul Palmer of Temple in the first round and powerful Enugu, Nigeria, native Christian Okoye from tiny Azusa Pacific in the second. Both rookies made a splash in the season-opening win over the Chargers as Palmer returned a kickoff for a touchdown and Okoye dashed for 105 yards. The Chiefs suffered a setback at Seattle the following week, just before another players' strike took place. NFL teams put together "replacement" squads, mostly consisting of players cut in training camp. The Chiefs version lost all three games, and by the time the strike was finished, the team stood 1-4. Five straight losses followed, giving the Chiefs a team-record nine-game skid. Kansas City won three of its last five for a 4-11 mark.

1988 — Defensive end Neil Smith of Nebraska became the team's first-round pick after the club traded its second-round choice to the Detroit Lions in order to move one place up in the first round. For the second straight season, the Chiefs were able to win just four times. Twelve-year veteran Steve DeBerg, acquired in an offseason trade with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers, became the club's starting quarterback. On December 19, one day after the season's end, Carl Peterson took over as the club's President/ General Manager and Chief Operating Officer.

1989 — Marty Schottenheimer, who directed the Cleveland Browns to two AFC Championship Game appearances, became the seventh head coach in Chiefs history on January 24. With the fourth overall pick in the draft, the team selected Butkus Award winner Derrick Thomas, Alabama's All-America linebacker. The team started slow, winning three of its first eight games. DeBerg, Ron Jaworksi, and Steve Pelluer each took turns as the team's starting quarterback. DeBerg regained the starting job for the final five weeks of the season, generating four wins that put the Chiefs one-half game shy of a playoff berth. The 8-7-1 record was good for second place in the division. Okoye set a club record and became the first Chiefs to lead the NFL in rushing with 1,480 yards, while Thomas won consensus Rookie of the Year honors.

1990 — Defensive tackle Buck Buchanan was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame on August 4. The Chiefs got out of the starting gate quickly, winning three of their first four games. The club then struggled, splitting its next six games, before tearing up the league in the home stretch, winning six of its last seven outings. The team's 11-5 record was the club's best since the 1969 Super Bowl season and advanced the team to the playoffs for just the second time since 1971. Free agent runnng back Barry Word topped the team with 1,015 yards, but the unquestioned leader on offense was DeBerg, who tossed 23 touchdown passes with just four interceptions. Kansas City led the NFL with 60 sacks, including 20 by Thomas, the NFL's sack king. An NFL-record seven of Thomas' sacks came on November 11 against Seattle, a game the Seahawks miraculously won, 17-16, on a last-season touchdown by future Chief Dave Krieg. That loss would bring on the furious streak run.

1991 — On January 5 at Joe Robbie Stadium in Miami, the Chiefs suffered a heart-breaking, 17-16 loss to the Dolphins in the AFC First Round Playoff tilt. On July 27, Jan Stenerud became the first pure placekicker to be inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame. The Chiefs enjoyed another strong 10-6 regular season. The home portion of the schedule was highlighted by a pair of prime-time Monday night affairs. On October 7, the Chiefs toppled the defending AFC Champion Bills, 33-6, in the club's first home Monday night game in eight years. Three weeks later, the Chiefs tallied a thrilling come-from-behind win over the Raiders in front of a national audience. On December 28, the Chiefs play host to the Raiders in the first playoff game ever at Arrowhead Stadium. The Chiefs posted their first postseason victory since Super Bowl IV with a 10-6 decision over the Raiders as Kansas City forced six Los Angeles turnovers.

1992 — On January 5, the Chiefs visited Buffalo for an AFC Divisional Playoff matchup. The Bills dynamic offense proved to be too much for the Chiefs in a 37-14 setback that propelled Buffalo toward the Super Bowl. A melancholy summer awaited the Chiefs, who mourned the passing of Player Personnel Director Whitey Dovell on May 22, and Hall of Famer Buck Buchanan on July 16. Six-time Pro Bowl safety Deron Cherry, owner of 50 career interceptions, announced his retirement in July. The Chiefs battle through an injury-riddled season, during which a playoff berth never seemed certain. On the regular season's final Sunday, the Chiefs faced the Broncos in a game that would send the winner into the playoffs. The Chiefs defense tallied three touchdowns and "Plan B" signee Dave Krieg tossed a pair of scoring passes as the Chiefs buried the Broncos, 42-20. First-round draft pick Dale Carter of Tennessee is named the AFC Defensive Rookie of the Year.

1993 — On January 2 in San Diego, the Chiefs made a quick exit from the playoffs as the Chargers posted a 17-0 victory.

ARROWHEAD STADIUM

Arrowhead Stadium, home of the Kansas City Chiefs, is one of the finest facilities in the NFL. It is part of the Harry S. Truman Sports Complex, which also includes a 42,000-seat baseball stadium. Arrowhead was dedicated August 12, 1972 at the inaugural preseason game. Since, 11,210,541 spectators have passed through the stadium turnstiles to enjoy Chiefs football.

Level Breakdown: (77,622)
Upper Level — 33,930; Club Level — 10,199; Lower Level — 33,443; Between End Zones — 50,000.

Construction Data:
Overall Supervision: Jackson County Sports Authority
Architect: Kivett and Myers with Charles Deaton, Design Associate
General Contractor: Sharp, Kidde, Webb
Groundbreaking: July, 1968
Completion: August, 1972

Funding:
Funds for Complex development and construction were provided by General Obligation Bond issue approved by voters of Jackson County on June 27, 1967, by a 67.8% majority. Additions to Arrowhead (explained below) are financed by $4.5 million Revenue Bonds to be retired by additional rental payment from Kansas City Chiefs, plus $5 million privately financed by the Chiefs.

Costs: Dual Stadium Complex $53,000,000
Additions to Arrowhead paid by Chiefs ..... $ 9,500,000
(Paid for by the Chiefs, added improvements include 18,000 chair-back seats, computerized scoreboard, all food-beverage service facilities, club facilities, business suites and administrative areas.)

PLAYOFF HISTORY

1962 AFL CHAMPIONSHIP GAME
Texans 20, Oilers 17
(Double Overtime)
Jeppesen Stadium, Houston (37,981)
December 23, 1962

A contest that moved the infant American Football League into the national consciousness proved to be the first of three AFL titles for Hank Stram's Texans/Chiefs.

Following second place finishes in each of the league's first two seasons, the Texans ran away with the AFL West championship in 1962. Dallas finished 11-3, a full four games in front, and was matched with the Houston Oilers, also 11-3, who had won the AFL title in 1960 and '61 over the Los Angeles, then San Diego Chargers.

The Texans, paced by a pair of touchdowns from Abner Haynes, took a 17-0 halftime advantage. Haynes scored first on a 28-yard pass from Len Dawson and then on a two-yard run after Tommy Brooker had given Dallas a 3-0 first-quarter advantage with a 16-yard field goal.

But the momentum quickly shifted to the Oilers in the second half. George Blanda, then a "young" 35-year-old, passed 15 yards to Willard Dewveall for a touchdown and kicked a 31-yard field goal before Charley Tolar burst over from the one to tie the game at 17-17 in the fourth quarter.

The two teams then went into the first sudden death overtime in AFL annals. The Texans won the toss and Stram elected to kick off, maintaining his defense could hold the Oilers long enough for Dawson to get the ball in good field position. Herein came the famous "kick to the clock" episode in which Texans captain Haynes inadvertantly elected for his team to kick into the wind instead of having it as the consolation for not receiving the football.

Neither club mounted a serious challenge in the early stages of overtime, but as the fifth quarter was drawing to a close, Dallas defensive end Bill Hull intercepted a Blanda pass and returned it to midfield. Dawson then passed to Jack Spikes for 10 yards; Spikes, the game's most valuable player, then ran for 19 and the Texans were in field goal range. At the 2:54 mark of the sixth quarter, Brooker kicked a 25-yard field goal to give the Texans a 20-17 victory and the American Football League championship. The game lasted 77 minutes and 54 seconds and would be the longest in pro football history until the Chiefs and Miami Dolphins played over 82 minutes nearly a decade later in 1971.

1966 AFL CHAMPIONSHIP GAME

Chiefs 31, Bills 7

War Memorial Stadium, Buffalo (42,080)

January 1, 1967

With a berth in Super Bowl I as the prize, the Chiefs visited ancient War Memorial Stadium for a New Year's Day clash with the defending AFL champion Buffalo Bills.

The game, played in frigid, sub-freezing temperatures, produced its first break on the opening kickoff. Jerrel Wilson recovered a Bills fumble on the Buffalo 31-yard line. Three plays later, Len Dawson passed 29 yards to Fred Arbanas for the first touchdown and a 7-0 Kansas City lead.

Buffalo, though, tied the game near the end of the opening period when Jack Kemp hit Elbert Dubenion on a 69-yard pass play. Few thought it would be the Bills final score of the day.

The Chiefs defense stiffened and Dawson led the offense to 10 second-quarter points. Otis Taylor caught a 29-yard touchdown pass and Mike Mercer added a 32-yard field goal, aided by a 72-yard pass interception by Johnny Robinson.

Mike Garrett then applied the coup de grace for the Chiefs by scoring on runs of one and 18 yards. Kansas City won its second AFL title in four years and awaited the Green Bay Packers in Super Bowl I.

SUPER BOWL I
Packers 35, Chiefs 10
Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum (63,036)
January 15, 1967

Representing themselves and the American Football League in the first championship match with the National Football League, the Chiefs played well for one half before bowing to the supremacy of the Green Bay Packers.

Vince Lombardi's Packers, one of the great pro football teams of all time, won Super Bowl I by a 35-10 score. But the Packers held a slim 14-10 advantage at the half before the game turned on one play in the third quarter.

Green Bay opened the scoring when Bart Starr passed 37 yards to Max McGee, McGee making a remarkable one-handed catch for the touchdown. Len Dawson tied the game for the Chiefs when he passed to Curtis McClinton for a second period touchdown. The Packers then went back on top, 14-7, before Mike Mercer kicked a 31-yard field goal just before the half ended.

The Chiefs momentum carried over into the third quarter as Kansas City moved to a first down on its initial possession. But then the game's key play, one that doomed the underdog Chiefs, unfolded when Willie Wood intercepted a Dawson pass intended for Fred Arbanas at midfield. Wood returned all the way to the Chiefs 5-yard line, where Elijah Pitts ran for a third Green Bay touchdown and an insurmountable 21-10 lead.

1969 AFL CHAMPIONSHIP GAME

Chiefs 17, Raiders 7

Oakland-Alameda County Coliseum (54,544)

January 4, 1970

On the day the American Football League played the final game of its 10-year history, the Kansas City Chiefs became the only three-time AFL champion. The Chiefs, through a curious playoff system, played their Western Division rivals, the Oakland Raiders, for the league's last title. Oakland, which had won the AFL West and held a pair of regular season wins over the Chiefs, went down to a 17-7 defeat.

The contest, unlike other Raiders-Chiefs matchups, was marked by turnovers. The two clubs managed one first-half touchdown apiece, Oakland's on a three-yard run by Charlie Smith, Kansas City responding with a one-yard plunge by Wendell Hayes after Len Dawson had hit on passes of 14 yards to Otis Taylor and 41 yards to Frank Pitts.

In the third quarter, George Blanda twice missed field goal attempts that would have moved Oakland in front. Midway through the period, Kansas City mounted a drive from its own 2-yard line, the field position a result of a fumble which luckily was recovered before it bounded into the end zone. Dawson and Taylor pulled Kansas City out of the hole with a 35-yard pass and run play. Robert Holmes added 23 more on a flare pass in the left flat and then scored the go-ahead touchdown five plays later.

At this point the game became a defensive struggle. Led by defensive charges from the entire front four of Aaron Brown, Buck Buchanan, Curley Culp and Jerry Mays, the Chiefs continually harassed Raiders quarterback Daryle Lamonica. But the turnovers which would plaque both teams were only beginning.

In the fourth quarter, turnovers gave Oakland the football three times in Kansas City territory. Three times the Chiefs responded with interceptions, one each by Jim Marsalis, Jim Kearney and Emmitt Thomas. Thomas' steal was his second of the day and covered 62 yards to the Oakland 18-yard line. Jan Stenerud's field goal provided a 17-7 lead and a return to the Super Bowl.

SUPER BOWL IV
Chiefs 23, Vikings 7
Tulane Stadium, New Orleans (80,562)
January 11, 1970

Kansas City's finest sports hour concluded at 5:20 in the afternoon of Sunday, January 11, 1970, when the Chiefs defeated the Minnesota Vikings, 23-7, for the world championship of pro football.

The Chiefs, who finished 11-3 on the season and defeated the New York Jets and Oakland in the playoffs, closed out their first decade as the outstanding team in the American Football League, which, with Super Bowl IV, came to an end. Beginning in 1970, the two leagues merged, with the AFL becoming the American Football Conference of the NFL.

Minnesota, a prohibitive favorite, was 12-2 during the regular season and at one point had won 12 games in succession.

The Chiefs took an early lead when Jan Stenerud kicked a 48-yard first quarter field goal. Stenerud's kick remains a Super Bowl record. He then followed with field goals of 32 and 25 yards for a 9-0 lead.

Kansas City received the first break in the game when the Vikings Charlie West fumbled a kickoff and Remi Prudhomme recovered at the Minnesota 19-yard line. After an eight-yard loss, Len Dawson handed off to Wendell Hayes, who rambled for 13 yards up the middle on a draw play. A 10-yard pass to Otis Taylor gave the Chiefs a first down at the four. Three plays later, Mike Garrett burst off-tackle for the touchdown. The Chiefs held a 16-0 halftime lead, stunning the Vikings and a nationwide television audience.

Minnesota mounted a mild third-quarter comeback when Dave Osborn scored from four yards out to cut the margin to 16-7. But any hopes the Vikings had of getting closer were dashed by Otis Taylor, who lived up to his big-play reputation repeatedly through that season.

Dawson hit Taylor on a short hitch pattern, but when Earsell Mackbee missed the initial tackle, Taylor was loose down the right sideline, highstepping his way to a 46-yard touchdown. After three quarters, the Chiefs again held a 16-point lead.

As was so often the case in 1969, the defense came to the fore. Minnesota had the ball three times in the final period and, as in the Oakland game the previous week, the Chiefs snuffed out all three chances with interceptions. Middle linebacker Willie Lanier picked off a Joe Kapp pass to halt a rally at the Chiefs 34-yard line. Later on, Johnny Robinson, playing with what turned out to be three broken ribs, grabbed another errant Kapp throw. In the game's closing minutes, Emmitt Thomas intercepted his fourth pass of the playoffs. The Chiefs then ran out the clock to capture the AFL's second consecutive Super Bowl triumph.

HEISMAN CHIEFS

Four Heisman Trophy winners – Billy Cannon, Mike Garrett, John Huarte, and most recently, Marcus Allen – have spent part of their pro playing career with the Kansas City Chiefs. In 1970, all but Allen graced the club's roster.

Cannon, who inspired the movie "Everybody's All-American," took home the Heisman in '59 after a stellar college career at LSU. He played one season ('70) with the Chiefs, catching seven passes for 125 yards and two touchdowns.

Garrett won the coveted Heisman in '65 and was drafted out of Southern Cal by the Chiefs in '66. He wore the Kansas City red and gold from '66-70, and is the team's third all-time rusher with 3,246 yards. He was inducted into the Chiefs Hall of Fame in '77.

Huarte was the surprise Heisman winner in '64 after nearly directing Notre Dame to the national title. The Chiefs were one of eight pro teams he played for. In his three seasons ('69-71) with the club, he threw just eight passes as a backup to Len Dawson and Mike Livingston.

Allen took home the '81 Heisman after setting an NCAA single-season rushing record with 2,342 yards. Following his standout college career at Southern Cal, he was selected in the first round of the '82 draft by the Los Angeles Raiders. He logged 11 impressive seasons with the Raiders until joining the Chiefs as a free agent in June of '93.

BUTKUS FINDS A HOME IN K.C.

Although college football's Butkus Award has only been in existence since 1985 and produced eight winners, Kansas City is home to three of the honorees. The award, which is presented by the Downtown Athletic Club of Orlando, Florida, to the nation's best collegiate linebacker, is named after Dick Butkus, two-time consensus All-America linebacker at Illinois and six-time all-pro with the Chicago Bears.

The Chiefs selected Derrick Thomas, the '88 winner in the first round of the '89 draft, Percy Snow, the '89 recipient, in the first round of the '90 draft, and Erick Anderson, the '91 honoree, in the seventh round of the '92 draft.

Here's a look at the eight Butkus Award winners:

1985 Brian Bosworth, Oklahoma
1986 Brian Bosworth, Oklahoma
1987 Paul McGowan, Florida State
1988 Derrick Thomas, Alabama
1989 Percy Snow, Michigan State
1990 Alfred Williams, Colorado
1991 Erick Anderson, Michigan
1992 Marvin Jones, Florida State

CHIEFS IN THE PRO FOOTBALL HALL OF FAME

LAMAR HUNT, AFL & Chiefs Founder, 1960-present.
Inducted in 1972.

Founded the American Football League in 1960 with his Dallas Texans franchise . . . Became the first AFL figure to be inducted into the Hall of Fame in 1972 . . . Described during his induction ceremonies as the "architect, designer and builder of an impossible dream" . . . Serves as the president of the American Football Conference . . . Since 1984, the AFC championship game trophy has carried his name . . . Has seen the Chiefs win three AFL titles and a Super Bowl trophy . . . Was born August 2, 1932, in El Dorado, Arkansas . . . Graduated from Southern Methodist University in 1956 with a B.S. in geology . . . Was a reserve end on SMU's football team . . . He and his wife, Norma, reside in Dallas and have four children, Lamar, Jr., Sharon, Clark and Daniel.

BOBBY BELL, Linebacker, 6-4, 225, 1963-74.
Inducted in 1983.

Became the first Chiefs player to be enshrined in the Hall when he was chosen in the Class of 1983 . . . Some have called him the greatest outside linebacker to play the game . . . Superb athlete began his pro career as a defensive end, because Chiefs needed help at that position when he was drafted in the seventh round in 1963 . . . Earned All-AFL or All-AFC honors for eight consecutive years . . . During that span he starred on two AFL Championship teams, played in Super Bowls I and IV, and was named to the AFL all-decade team in 1969 . . . Intercepted 26 passes and recovered 15 fumbles (tying Willie Lanier and Deron Cherry for Kansas City record) . . . Born June 17, 1940 in Shelby, North Carolina . . . Was an all-state quarterback at Cleveland High School in Shelby . . . Was the Outland Trophy winner as college football's outstanding lineman as a senior in 1962 at Minnesota . . . Played on College All-Star team that defeated the Packers in 1963 . . . Resides in Kansas City.

WILLIE LANIER, Middle Linebacker, 6-1, 245, 1967-77.
Inducted in 1986.

As part of the Hall's Class of 1986, he became the second Chiefs player to be enshrined in Canton . . . Chiefs starting middle linebacker for 11 years, he possessed a ferocious tackling style that made him a feared run-stopper . . . Also had the speed and agility that helped him grab 27 career interceptions, good for the sixth-most ever by a Chief . . . His 15 fumble recoveries tie Bobby Bell and Deron Cherry for the most ever by a Chiefs defender . . . A second-round draft choice in 1967, he missed just five games in his 11 NFL campaigns . . . Played in two AFL All-Star games and five AFC-NFC Pro Bowls . . . Helped Chiefs to their only World Championship, a Super Bowl IV victory over Minnesota . . . Born August 21,1945 in Clover, Virginia . . . Attended Maggie L. Walker High School in Richmond, Virginia . . . Was a two-time small college All-America pick at Morgan State . . . Named Tangerine Bowl MVP . . . Graduated from Morgan State in 1967 with a B.S. in business administration . . . Lives in Richmond, where he is vice president at First Wheat Securities.

LEN DAWSON, Quarterback, 6-0, 190, 1962-75.
Inducted in 1987.

Heart and sole of Texans/Chiefs franchise during his illustrious career . . . During his tenure as the team's field general, he helped make the Chiefs one of pro football's premier teams and wound up among the elite passers in the game's history . . . Under his guidance, the Chiefs were perennial contenders and won AFL Championships in 1962, 1966 and 1969 . . . Was MVP of Super Bowl IV when he directed Kansas City to a win over heavily-favored Minnesota . . . Won AFL passing titles four times and still holds Chiefs career marks for pass rating, attempts, completions, completion percentage, passing yards and touchdowns . . . Started pro career with the Steelers, as a first-round pick in '56, then landed with the Browns before ending up with the Texans . . . Born June 20, 1935 in Alliance, Ohio . . . Attended Alliance High School . . . Led Big 10 in passing and total offense for three seasons at Purdue . . . Does play-by-play on Chiefs Radio and is the sports anchor at KMBC-TV in Kansas City.

BUCK BUCHANAN, Defensive Tackle, 6-7, 275, 1963-75.
Inducted in 1990.

Became third member of feared Kansas City defense to enter the Hall . . . The first overall selection in the 1963 AFL draft, he became the prototype for future pro defensive linemen . . . Combined perfect size with outstanding strength and deceptive speed . . . Helped Kansas City win two AFL crowns and their only Super Bowl in 1970 . . . Had an eight-year stretch where he either went to the AFL All-Star game or the AFC-NFC Pro Bowl . . . Was a unanimous All-AFL pick from 1966-69 . . . His teammates named him the Chiefs MVP in 1965 and 1967 . . . Born September 10, 1940 in Gainesville, Alabama . . . Was captain of both football and basketball squads at Parker High School in Birmingham . . . Played tackle on both sides of the ball at Grambling for Eddie Robinson, who called him "the finest tackle I have ever seen" . . . Owned All-Pro Construction Company and All-Pro Advertising in Kansas City . . . Died July 16, 1992.

JAN STENERUD, Placekicker, 6-2, 190, 1967-79.
Inducted in 1991.

The first pure placekicker to be inducted into the Hall and the fifth Chiefs player to make it to Canton . . . Regarded by many as the best placekicker in pro football history . . . Played 19 NFL seasons: Kansas City 1967-79; Green Bay 1980-83; and Minnesota 1984-85 . . . Owns NFL record for most career field goals made with 373 and is second to George Blanda on the league's all-time scoring list with 1,699 points . . . Still owns or shares 9 Chiefs records, including career records for field goals attempted (436) and consecutive games played (186) . . . Hit a 48-yard field goal in Super Bowl IV victory . . . Was selected by Chiefs in third round of '66 AFL "red shirt" draft . . . Attended Montana State on a skiing scholarship . . . A native of Fetsund, Norway . . . Is now director of business development for Howard Needles Tammen & Bergendoff, a Kansas City architectural firm.

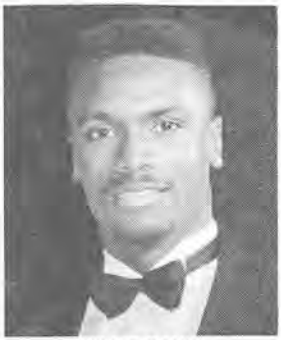
MACK LEE HILL AWARD



WILLIE DAVIS

Each year since 1966, the Chiefs veteran players have selected a recipient for the Mack Lee Hill Award. It is a tribute to the late Mack Lee Hill, an outstanding running back who played for the Chiefs in 1964 and 1965. He was described as a man who played as much with his heart as he did with his driving legs in the early days of the American Football League.

In memory and tribute to Hill, the award is presented annually to the Chiefs rookie or first-year player, who, as the inscription on the trophy reads — "best exemplifies the spirit of the late Mack Lee Hill . . . the man with the giant heart and quiet way." In selecting the recipient, the Chiefs veterans look for a first-year player who has displayed the spirit and attitude of Mack Lee Hill.

The 1992 winner of the award was wide receiver Willie Davis, who endured two seasons on the Chiefs practice squad before becoming a starter. He came out of relative obscurity to become one of the NFL's most electrifying receivers, leading the league in yards per reception with a lofty 21.0-yard average. He amassed 36 catches, third-most on the team, 756 receiving yards to lead the club, and three touchdowns. He tied a Chiefs record for most consecutive 100-yard receiving games with three, a feat accomplished just three times in franchise history.

Running back Mack Lee Hill bursts forward for yardage against the Raiders during his memorable two-year pro career with the Chiefs.

Lee
We're behind you all the way.
The Kansas City based Lee Company not only backs the Kansas City Chiefs, we also back quite a few of the fans.

We prove it on the field too.

Except our field is on the farms of 250,000 family farmers that own Farmland.

Farmland is a unique cooperative system that provides farm families superior supplies such as feed, fertilizer, fuel and information to help produce today's wholesome foods. Farmland then brings this great tasting food including beef, pork, and grains, to dinner tables throughout America and the world.
